700 Women At Lake For Woodmen Circle Conference Meeting

Approximately 700 women are attending the regional conference of the Woodmen Circle, which is being held this week at Lake Junaluska. The official public opening of the gathering took place on Tuesday morning, when Regional Captain, Mrs. Mattie Becker, of Cleveland, Ohio, led 600 women dressed in white uniforms in a grand march through the recreational grounds, in a dedication ceremony of the camp and to raise the flag of the United States and the banner of the organization.

The honor of raising the United States flag was given to the Ohio delegation, and the banner was presented by the National Chaplain, Mrs. Mayme Hippler, of Cleveland, to the National President, Mrs. Talley.

On Tuesday evening an impressive program was presented, to which the public was invited. The women, in evening dresses of many shades, and carrying flowers of their states, marched in fancy drills, that culminated in an old-fashioned garden, making an effective picture on the stage of the auditorium.

On Wednesday evening a memorial service was held, which was also open to the public, with the remainder of the meetings for the week to be confined to the attendance of the group only.

Thursday will be devoted to schools of instruction and on Friday there will be a meeting held around a camp fire. The last session will be held on Saturday morning, in the nature of a farewell breakfast.

There are representatives from 26 states and all the delegates are enthusiastic over this section, and the hospitality extended them by the Southern Assembly management.

NO LONGER MAYOR

Confronted with the necessity of giving up either his job as mayor of Gulfport, Fla., or his job as assistant foreman on a WPA project, Andrew E. Potter retired from the city hall. He got $10 a month as mayor; the WPA job pays $75.

Play Will Be Given At 8 Tonight

"The Drunkard," a temperance play by P. T. Barnum, will be given at the Central Elementary school, June 11, at 8:00 o'clock. The play is being sponsored by the Waynesville P. T. A. This play was very popular, highly acclaimed and successful about the middle of the last century, when it was presented time after time at the same theatre and drew a large crowd each time.

The story presents all the horrors of drink known to those of another century. The heart aches and suffering of women, and the degradation and immorality of men, caused by the demon "Strong Drink," are depicted in a very vivid manner.

Many old songs are featured in the play. The costumes, decorations, and scenic effects are modelled after the last century type. The language of the play is that of the same period. "The Drunkard" is being produced by The Federal Theatre, an organization sponsored by the Federal government to promote dramatic art. Wilbur K. Morgan of Asheville is director of the play.

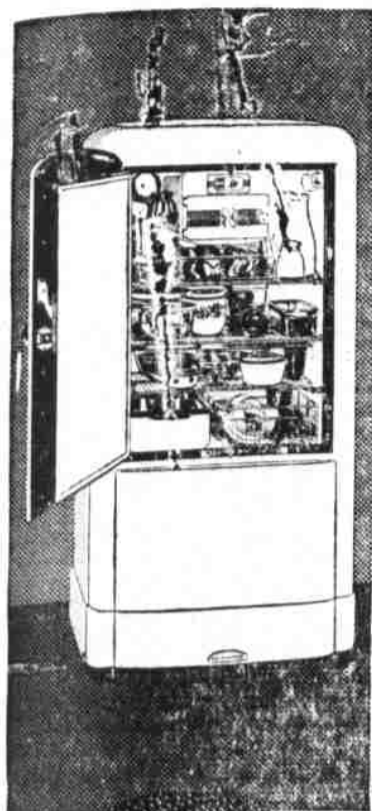

NUMBER 77

Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, came home on last Thursday from Europe, thereby completing his seventy-seventh round trip across the water since 1923. Only one thing seemed to disturb him—the proposed New Deal taxes on corporations. He claims that Germany is in fine shape and Hitler is really popular, because the business men credit him with bringing order out of chaos.

SHY FOR HIS OWN GLORY

Dexter Fellows, publicity agent for many years of Ringling Brothers, and Barnum Bailey is proving a very poor press agent for himself. He has recently written an autobiography. Last Wednesday New York reporters tried to interview him about the book, but he talked of everything else, but of his own book and his own adventures. Mr. Fellows is in his 65th year and has been a press agent for the tanback arena since he was 22. Editors regard him as the clinching sign of Spring, for he and his adjectives always precede the circus.
