

35 Men Working On Hazelwood Streets

About 35 men are at work paving streets in Hazelwood, and plans already made by the board of aldermen calls for about two and a half miles of paving under the present set-up.

The labor is being furnished by WPA, and the material by the town of Hazelwood.

The town has just purchased a new tractor and a rock crusher to be used in connection with paving the two and a half miles of streets.

The streets will have six inches of crushed stone and a tar or oil top.

Hazelwood News

Mr. Marshall Davis and Mr. Kenneth Davis, of Leaksville, N. C., spent three days of last week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Leatherwood and children left Monday for Detroit, after spending several weeks here.

Mr. Farren Parris is in the Haywood County Hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis on Monday.

Mrs. C. S. Benfield and daughter, Barbara, returned to her home in Lenoir, after spending several days in town.

Mrs. Alice Bolden, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mrs. Kate Stinette, of Canton, have returned home after a week's visit to Mrs. W. A. Whitener.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH ELECTS OFFICERS

A short business meeting was held at the Baptist church Sunday morning for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. The following officers were re-elected:

Pastor, Rev. J. M. Woodard.
Clerk, Sam Knight.
Treasurer, C. C. Palmer.
Janitor, Jack Davis.

Hazelwood Tax Rate Is Now $1.60

G. C. Summerrow, tax collector of Hazelwood, stated this week that tax collections for the past year were far above par, and that just a small number were behind with current taxes.

The board of aldermen have authorized that the new tax books be made, and a rate of $1.60 has been fixed as the rate for 1936 taxes. This is the same rate that was in force last year.

Mr. Summerrow was optimistic over the business outlook in Hazelwood, saying that all those who wanted to work were having plenty of it offered to them.

Preston To Direct Comic Opera Aug. 15 At L. Junaluska

flashing beacon will lend reality to the scene. Authentic costumes will be secured from a Philadelphia costumer.

The Waynesville Choral Club, which is responsible for the production, was organized by Mr. Preston in the fall of 1935, and its first performance, a Christmas Candlelight Service, was given at the First Baptist church in Waynesville the same year. Another outstanding success was the presentation of Stainer's "Crucifixion" at the Presbyterian church in Waynesville on Palm Sunday. The Choral Club has also furnished music for secular occasions, such as graduating exercises and civic clubs. The purpose of the club, according to its founder, is to give talented members an opportunity to perform in public and promote the higher forms of music.

James Atkins, superintendent of the Junaluska Assembly, expressed his gratification at securing this outstanding program event and expressed the belief that it would, in an exceptionally fine way, celebrate the consummation of the goal of the Save Junaluska Campaign, namely the collection of $105,000 by August 15.

Pianist, Mrs. H. J. Hyatt and chorister D. A. Winchester, had been elected at a previous meeting.

Summer Visitor Here With License Number "000,000"

Mr. Brownbeck, Of St. Petersburg, Given License By Florida Highway Department

Attracting considerable attention since the sojourn of the owner in Waynesville, is the number, "000,000," on the front of the car of William Brownbeck. The number was given him as a special courtesy by the State Highway department of Florida, his adopted state.

Since he has carried this on his car he has had many interesting adventures, having been stopped on numerous occasions, to satisfy the curiosity of strangers, and for explanations to officers. Once in Virginia he was asked by an officer, if he were not the Governor of Florida, traveling with such a distinctive license on his car.

Mr. and Mrs. Brownbeck rented a house here the first of June and are spending the summer in Waynesville. They are originally from Bryn Mawr, Penn., but have been spending the winters in St. Petersburg, where they have had a home for many years.

Last fall Mr. Brownbeck started a clean up and beautification campaign in Pasadena, a residential section of St. Petersburg, where he resides, the plans of which might be admirably adapted by any town or city. He, with one of his neighbors, took the matter of the improvement of his neighborhood up with the city manager, who stated there would be no funds available for such work. However, when told that all that was desired of the city was co-operation, a tractor and a driver, he heartily agreed to the terms.

From this start has grown a definite group, organized for the cleaning up and beautification of this particular section of the city of St. Petersburg. The idea could well be adopted right here in Waynesville. The beautification of the entire town on one grand scale is a rather formidable task, but if the various neighborhoods could sponsor a plan for their own vicinity, wonders could be wrought. Many attractive homes do not make their best appearance as the surrounding territory so often mars the effect of the general landscape.

Mr. Brownbeck is high in his praise of this section, both as regards climate, markets and the people, and considers Waynesville a delightful place in which to live.

PLAN TO BUILD "SHELTERBELT" MAY BE REVIVED

The drought and a recent report that 81.2 per cent of the 24,000,000 trees planted in the much scoffed at "shelterbelt," which would reach from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico, has revived interest in the project, despite the fact that Congress has refused to appropriate money to carry on the work.

Morris L. Cooke, chairman of the President's Great Plains drought area committee, announced last Saturday that money was available from previous allotments to keep the work going.

-TIMELY- Farm Questions and Answers

Question: My cows are eating a weed which imparts a bitter flavor to the milk. Is there any way of overcoming this flavor?

Answer: It is evident that the cows are consuming bitter weed which is very prevalent in eastern North Carolina pastures. This weed imparts a distinctly bitter flavor to milk—one which is very objectionable and which cannot be removed by processing. The best remedy for this trouble is to remove the weed from the pasture either by pulling or digging it up. By taking the cow off the pasture at least six or seven hours before milking time and giving her some dry feed may help in eliminating this trouble, but it will not entirely overcome the flavor.

Question: What causes limberneck in fowls?

Answer? Botulism, or limberneck as it is commonly called, is caused by the bird eating decayed animal or vegetable matter which contains a powerful nerve poison. Treatment of the visibly affected birds is of no value. Epsom salts given in the drinking water at the rate of one pound to three gallons of water aids in flushing out the digestive tract. When botulism is suspected, the poultryman should make a careful search for the decaying vegetable or animal matter. In the meantime, the flock should be confined until the source of the trouble is found and removed or until it has a chance to decay completely.

Question: How soon should one start to getting animals ready for fairs this fall?

Answer: Farmers who plan to enter animals in fairs this fall should begin preparations eight or ten weeks before the animals are to go in the show ring. Dairy cattle should be in good flesh, but not too fat or too lean. Clip the hair about eight weeks before fair time, then wash and keep the animal blanketed constantly. Begin polishing the horns several days before the exhibition date with pumice with sweet oil. It is also important to teach the animal to stand and walk properly.

Skyline Road Now Closed For Oiling

Oiling operations were started on August 3 on a part of the Clingman Dome Road. This road will be closed to travel until oiling is completed.

Oiling has also been started on the Tennessee section of the Newfound Gap road and is expected to be completed about September 5. This road will be kept open for through travel, but it is urged that local people stay off the road except in connection with through travel.

There will be no interference with travel on the Scenic Loop via Little River Gorge.

FLAMES ADD TO HORRORS OF SPANISH REBELLION

Flames started by bombs from aviators planes ravaged the stronghold in several cities of northern Spain early this week. Latest reports indicate that desultory fighting continues without a decisive victory on either side.

Other important developments are Americans have been ordered to leave from Madrid to Valencia.

Two American planes are being sent to the Ford Motor Company and the other to the General Motors Company have been seized by the rebels.

France appealed to the League of Nations to have no part in the rebellion, including with a warning to the League to aid the rebels.

Britain protested the seizure of property belonging to her subjects.
