Legion Parade Tires Kiddies

Although the annual parade of the 40 and 8, fun and honor auxiliary of the American Legion, was a most colorful affair, even the antics of the veterans failed to keep awake these weary youngsters who snatched a nap on the curb during the march of Legionnaires at their annual convention in Cleveland.

Sarsaparilla From Smilax Roots
Sarsaparilla is prepared from the fibrous roots of the smilax, a plant indigenous to Central America from the southern and western coasts of Mexico to Peru.

Guavas Grow Wild
Wild guavas furnish delicious jelly in Hawaii just as wild crabapples once supplied material for jelly in other parts of America. The Hawaiian guava trees grow wild, and the fruit is to be had for the picking.

MISS CHARLEANE TURBYFILL MARRIES NEW YORK RESIDENT

Centering the interest of a large circle of relatives and friends is the marriage of Miss Charleane Turbyfill to Mr. Martin E. Corrigan, Jr., which took place at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, September 26th, in Our Lady of the Assumption church, in New York City. The Rev. Flaherty, pastor of the church pronounced the vows.

Charles O. Turbyfill, Jr., brother of the bride, and Walter R. Havemann, acted as ushers. The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Martin J. Killen, as best man.

The bride had as her only attendant, the groom's sister, Mrs. Martin J. Killen, as matron of honor. Mrs. Killen wore a velvet gown of royal blue, with blue velvet cap and matching accessories. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow tea roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a handsome gown of ivory satin fashioned on princess lines. Her veil was finger length and was of tulle fastened with orange blossoms to a Juliette cap of ivory seed pearls. She carried her mother's white prayerbook, from which fell a shower of valley lilies.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Marine Restaurant on City Island, after which the young couple left for a cruise to Virginia Beach. Upon their return from their wedding trip they will reside at 1776 Castle Hill Avenue, New York City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Charles O. Turbyfill and the late Mrs. Eugenia Aenes Turbyfill. She spent her early childhood in Waynesville, and moved to New York City when her father was put in charge of the Museum of the American Indian, of that city. She is a graduate of the Theodore Roosevelt High School of New York, continuing her education at Columbia University, and the Franklin School of business.

The groom is a native of New York City. He is a graduate of the Montrose High School, and the Insurance Institute of New York.

Among the out of town relatives attending the marriage were: Mr. P. I. Turbyfill, of Waynesville, and Mrs. J. C. Turner of Elmer, N. J., the latter an aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Mary New, who has been the guest of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Albert New, has returned to her work in New York City.
