(By Tom Reeves.)

Coach Weatherby's Mountaineers will meet the Canton High School Black Bears in a double-header on the local court tomorrow night at 7:30. Both teams have developed rapidly since the beginning of their first practice two weeks ago. During early games these high school outfits, both members of the Blue Ridge Conference, have not been successful in winning from experienced clubs; however, both coaches are drilling their charges daily.

The Mountaineers have shown possibilities of developing into good This was noticed by their teams. much improved play in the Bethel games last week. More Wedding Bells Home Management Program Helps 170 Families In County

A constructive project that is being carried on in co-operation with the Rural Rehabilitation program of the Resettlement Administration, is the work going forward under Miss Sarah E. Elmore, home management supervisor of the division. Miss Elmore spends three days of each week in Buncombe and the remainder in Haywood county.

Those receiving assistance from Miss Elmore are the families of the men whom Newton Cook is helping finance and otherwise get established on small farms or rented lands. While the work of Miss Elmore, is along the lines of the county home demonstration agent, a smaller and more restricted group is reached, and with a more concentrated pro-gram for each family.

Since coming to the county Miss Elmore has worked with 170 familes in various ways of readjusting and organizing home management, on the part of the women in the homes.

Many of the housewives, who have been aided in this resettlement program had never canned food of any description before, "but during the past summer a number, under supervision have canned enough food to carry their families through the Iron Duff Farmers winter.

With this assistance from government workers families have also improved their living conditions and een able to add to their household quipment.

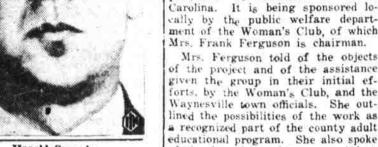

The following food and conserva-ion report of 54 families, totaling 54 persons, whom Miss Elmore has ssisted in Haywood county will give comprehensive iten of the work a omplished
