

Legislative News from Raleigh

The old age assistance bill providing for assistance for the blind persons over 65 and dependent children introduced in the Senate by Senator McKee, Gregory and Gregory, has passed and has been ratified. It carries a maximum of $10 a month for indigent people over 65 years of age and is the first of its kind ever enacted in the state. Senator McKee, Senator Gregory and Senator Gregory, whose names appear as the introducers of the bill will be heard in the halls of the state at the parents of old age persons in North Carolina.

Some of the items of all kinds and descriptions, except merchandise excepting those which will be shipped in North Carolina after June 30, under the terms of a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Fannagan and which has passed both houses. It is understood that the bill was drawn in the office of the Attorney General and is said to be all right. The assembly of 1935 attempted to do the same thing but for some reason the measure was unable to operate in many respects. The present law effective June 30, includes the provisions as well as the old time law and four major items which were dropped in 1935.

The bill passed a bill to discontinue the trial plan as the method of executing of work has consisted of rapid development up to the electric chair. However, the Senate killed the bill. The number has another two years before it is the sign instrument of death.

The state for the first time in its history has passed a bill making an appropriation of $25,000 for adult education. The bill puts the adult teachers under the state Department of Education and allows them to continue to receive grants in aid from the Federal government, and from other sources. The bill originally carried an appropriation of $50,000.

Challenges God; Stroke Is Fatal

Samuel Whittaker, convicted of killing his wife, stood up in court and cried: "If I am guilty I hope God will strike me dead before I ever reach my cell." He died of a heart attack in the hospital at San Quentin Prison, Calif. before he ever reached his cell.

but that was out of $25,000 and there was little difficulty in getting it enacted when the entire west got behind it in gratitude for the fine work that these teachers have been doing. Representative Whitlow of Rutherford made an impression on the floor when he stated that he was holding in his hand a letter from a man in Rutherford asking his support of the measure and stating that one day ago the writer could not read or write a word.

The truckers who haul coal and wood and poles to the railroad and to the mills in the Pigeon Forge and Carboon will have the price of the tags on their trucks cut about half, under a compromise effected by Representative Kimmey of Transylvania. The bill provides that owners of trucks that are used for the purpose of hauling forest products a distance of 25 miles or less, shall be allowed to purchase tags at the same rate as farm trucks. This will cut the estimated cost of the price of wood truck tags about 50 per cent.

A series of companion bills introduced by Durham's Victor Bryant passed the House, allowing counties, cities and towns to issue bonds for the purpose of participating in federal projects under the WPA rural electrification plan and the like. The bonds are to be taken up by the federal government and the returns from these self-financing projects are to be used to pay off the government as the revenue comes in, the interest is paid, and the bonds become due.

The school machinery act, the highway machinery act, the taxation machinery act, and other necessary legislation to keep the machinery of state and local governments running through the biennium have been passed. The highway bill, following the Governor's recommendation of dividing the state into highway districts, was a compromise. The maneuvering for position, for appointment on the commission, the securing of road building funds and the like, created such a situation, that the committee passed the bill, leaving the actual map-making of district in the hands of the commission and the Council of State.

The trip made by the General Assembly to historic Edenton, cradle of North Carolina, site of the first permanent settlement in the state, and one time capital of North Carolina, was one of the most enjoyable that many of the western members have made in a long time. The assembly met in historic Edenton, where assemblies met in the olden days, and the house really enacted a considerable number of bills, as the whole proceeding was broadcast over station WPTF in Raleigh. The most important bill passed there was the one appropriating $250,000 for advertising North Carolina to the world as a paradise for tourists, offering almost every variety of climate, scenery, sports, recreation, and also a store of history for those who delight to feed their souls upon the past of our country. The meeting was held in the Chowan county court house, built in 1767, and on the exact spot where the assembly met more than 200 years ago.

Another bill passed there was one memorializing the President and the Congress to make available funds for the early completion of the Blue Ridge Parkway, connecting the Shenandoah and the Great Smoky Mountains National Parks.

Battles 25 Men!

Mary Dillard Perrine, 22-year-old homery model of Miami, Fla., is battling 25 men—but the contest isn't as one-sided as it might be thought for Mary is one of 26 candidates for a post as city commissioner and has much in her favor, as can be seen.

Kitchen Improvement Contest On

(Contributed.) Miss Pauline E. Gordon, extension specialist in home management and house furnishing, spent two days in the county helping the home demonstration club women with household accounts and making plans for the improvement contest. The goal of the contest "To Establish 4 C Kitchens" in the county. The 4 Cs mean convenient, comfortable, cheerful and cleanliness. Miss Gordon will be back in the county the last of March to score the kitchens of those who wish to enroll in the contest. She will also act as a judge in the contest. To have a convenient, comfortable, cheerful and clean kitchen does not mean that one must spend a lot of money on the kitchen.

Some things that one might do to make the kitchen more convenient: Rearrangement to save steps, built in cabinets, shelves, a linoleum rug on the floor will save much hard work, or perhaps a new floor is needed. If husband is handy with hammer the above could be added without much expense. A thorough cleaning, new curtains or painting will certainly make the kitchen more cheerful. All means the kitchen should be cleaned. It would be so easy and not costly to have water pipes arranged to have a drain to carry the waste water. Water has been mentioned as a little as six dollars in other communities. We hope the men will take an active part in the contest and help with some nice prizes that are going to be. The contest begins the first of April and will last until August. Plenty of time for you to make kitchen convenient, comfortable, cheerful.

If your home management has not been to see you and you like to enter the contest, please touch with the home agent, Miss Gordon's schedule can be sent out for the last of the month. The 4-H county court will meet on Saturday, March 20th, at 9 o'clock in the court house in Waynesville. At the last meeting of the council Mrs. Jean Dillon, discuss Health H for the council. The for discussion in March will be Health H. All council members urged to be present at the meeting.
