Local Golf Course Played 9,000 Times In 5 Months

Outstanding Events Held On Waynesville Country Club Course This Year

By Gordon Hendricks
During the past five months, the Waynesville Country Club Golf course has been played approximately 9,000 times, according to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Long, owners and managers. Besides the large number of games played, some other outstanding events included: Three tournaments, each drawing a large list, the course record was broken by Jack Toomer, pro, and several exhibition matches were given by high ranking golfers.

In the Rotary tournament, Paul Anderson, of Canton, defeated Luther Curtis, of Waynesville, in the finals of the first flight, and in the finals of the annual invitation tournament, Aaron Prevost, of Waynesville, defeated Robert Hendricks, also of Waynesville. The ladies' tournament was won by Mrs. Cooke, who defeated Mrs. Mabel Gill.

Jack Toomer added his bit by shooting a 64, which is 8 strokes under par, to break the course record which he held. Mr. Toomer also competed in the Southern open at Charlotte, and took third place.

It would be difficult to estimate how much the caddies who worked for these golfers were paid, but the base pay of 30 cents for 9 holes, and 60 cents for 18 holes was paid each time. Many persons have the idea that the caddies work for the Country Club; they do not, they are employed by a golfer, to work only for the number of rounds which the golfer wishes to go.

Mr. Long, and his group of workers, are to be complimented on the excellent condition of the course throughout the year, even when around 150 persons a day were playing on it.

Local Players Making Good In Other Schools

There are several Waynesville boys who are making the grade in college competition on the gridiron, among them are Cecil Yount, who played a leading role in the Cullowhee-Boiling Spring contest at Cullowhee last Saturday, and James Liner, Fagz Sawyer, and Joe Shipley, who are also at Cullowhee. Liner was a reserve on the Catamount team last year, and is making a strong bid for a regular berth; Sawyer has been shifted to the backfield and Shipley is also a back.

At State, Bob Waggoner is a candidate for an end position on the varsity eleven, and Garrett Reeves, a back, and Joe Cathey, an end, are trying out for the freshman team.

Yancey Bridges, a former Waynesville High star, is out for the Newport News Shipbuilding team, along with Rufus Summerrow and Harry Brendle.

Wake Forest plays George Washington tonight in Washington. Last year Wake Forest lost by one point in a 12-13 score.

SLANTS ON SPORTS

GORDON HENDRICKS

Waynesville's defeat at Asheville, and Canton's victory over Murphy has all Canton talking now . . . and predicting a Canton victory on October 15th . . . there was, however, a slight difference in the opposition the two teams faced.

This corner received a letter from head coach O. C. Roberts, of Mars Hill college last week, which said in part: "Athletics in Mars Hill are a 'racket,' we have no paid players." . . . wonder how long it will be before all the colleges in this and other sections can truthfully say this?

M. H. Bowles was elected president of the Blue Ridge Conference last week . . . congratulations, Mr. Bowles . . . Hendersonville and Canton are going to have the track meet and basketball tournament again this year.

The Mountaineers face their first conference foe this Friday afternoon in Saluda-Tryon . . . Canton's Black Bears go up against Mars Hill next Friday night.

Stepping now from the gridiron to the diamond, how many of you have been following the career of Lefty Melton, of Black Mountain, who is pitching for the New York Giants, and who is one of their most valued players . . . Lefty has a personal hate for New York Yankees . . . he'll probably get his chance for revenge during the world series.

Poteat's first boxing-wrestling show last week was a success . . . Just to make sure that Chief Ropetwister would be here, Poteat went over to Cherokee after him . . . it was certainly a relief to see men, and not a few skinny kids putting on a show.

One of the most enjoyable aspects of the entire program was the way that matches were arranged . . . a local boy against an out-of-towner . . . the 10-round match, alone, was worth the price of admission.

Film Stars at Tennis Matches

No Wrestling Or Boxing This Week

The weekly boxing and wrestling show will not be held this week, according to a statement made by manager Lester Poteat.

Mr. Poteat gave as his reason that the show would be moved to a new location, now that cold weather is approaching, and that there would not be sufficient time to make arrangements for the type of card which he plans to put on.

With the added time, the management hopes to erect more ring-side seats, and to present an outstanding card.

Notes Of A SPECTATOR At The Game

By AUNT SUE

—a flash of color seemed to reflect on the sky as the excited football crowd poured into the Asheville Memorial Stadium last Friday for the Waynesville-Asheville game—

—as the orange jersied Mountaineers met the Maroon Devils, a wild cheer arose from the jittery throng—

—it certainly was a clean game, and at the rate Asheville is going, they will soon be tops in high school football—

—the gay crowd was bedecked in clothes of many startling color combinations—

—the Asheville band recognized the Mountaineers with a special number during the half, and introduced four attractive sponsors—

—looking over the crowd, it looked like a convention of pipe smokers—and when the game got underway, the blanket of smoke seemed to settle down over the crowd, but ere long, the excitement of the throng, gave wings to the blue haze, and it went heavenly—

—when William McCracken made a flashy dash, he was spurned on by a straw-hatted bleacherite, but as the excitement lessened, the summer-hat fan found that his adjoining friends, had pushed the crowd out—

—Waynesville was well represented, almost as many business men as high school students, and if anything, the older fans were the more enthusiastic—

—after the game, the Waynesville girls were crowding around the heroes of the game—it seems that after playing hard football two hours that the boys would not want to bother with the girls, but, ho hum—

—another game that looms to be full of excitement is the one next Friday with Tryon-Saluda. Since it is a home game, there should be lots

Asheville Proves Too Powerful For Mountaineers, 45-0

Asheville Maroons Have No Trouble In Piling Up Big Score Against Local Boys

By Gordon Hendricks.

The Asheville High Maroons found the opposition very much to their liking in Asheville last Friday afternoon, as they swamped the Waynesville Mountaineers before 2,000 persons, 45-0. Led by Hampton, Reid, Jones, Coman, and Carter, the Maroons employed a smashing line attack and a series of passes to cross the goal line seven times.

Asheville kicked off to open the game, and Smith was stopped on his own 20 yard line, where three plays later, he was forced to kick. Hampton returned the punt to Waynesville's 20-yard line, where Jones carried the pigskin over on an end run.

In the second quarter the Maroons scored twice on a forward pass, followed by a lateral, and once on a slant off tackle.

LOCALS IMPROVE

The Maroons found a stronger line awaiting them at the whistle for the second half, and were stopped in their tracks in line plays following the kick-off. The teams exchanged punts, and Asheville gained 50 yards on the exchange. The Mountaineers again stopped the Asheville running attack, and the Maroons again took to the air. A pass placed the ball on Waynesville's 1-foot line, but Hampton was thrown for a four yard loss on the next play. After holding the Maroons for three down, the Mountaineers missed Reid as he plunged over tackle to score.

Asheville scored once more, following a steady advance down the field, and neither team was able to do much the remainder of the game. The Mountaineers did open up with a passing attack, however, which at times appeared to be dangerous.

The best individual effort turned in by the Mountaineers was the surprisingly fine job which Truitt did at tackle, Reeve's able handling of the left half position, and a 30 yard return of a kick-off by William McCracken in the third quarter.

Good, All-Round Wrestling And Boxing Matches Staged Last Week

By Gordon Hendricks

Chief Ropetwister, Cherokee Indian, led the parade of out-of-town wrestlers and boxers who made a clean sweep of the program here last Thursday night. Ropetwister, a wrestler, pinned Sam Franklin, of Waynesville, in the feature wrestling match, taking the first and third falls. Both men were heavy-weights, Franklin tipping the scales at 185, and the Indian at 191.

MASSIE WINS

In the 10 round boxing spot, Kid Massie, of Roanoke, Va., had little trouble with Watson, a member of the Roundbottom CCC outfit, winning the match when Watson failed to answer the bell in the sixth round. Massie had taken every round up to this point, and had floored his heavier opponent in the fourth with a jolting left to the face. Massie weighed 144, and the CCC employee 152.

The first wrestling match between two local boys, "Wolf" Mehauffey and "Bad Bill" McCall, went to McCall in 2 minutes and 5 seconds of the third fall. McCall won with a body press hold.

STAMEY LOSES

The opening match found Hilliard Stamey, local puncher, losing to Dixie Walker by default after the third round. Stamey was evidently out of condition, and was no match for his fast stepping opponent after the second round.

Heavier Line And Faster Backfield New Combination

Frank Saunders Lost To Team Hard Work-Outs Given Mountaineers By Coaches

The Waynesville Mountaineers had their first Blue Ridge Conference game here tomorrow afternoon, following a week of intense practice. The Mountaineers are set to play to offset their 45-0 defeat at Asheville last week.

Last year the Mountaineers defeated the Saluda-Tryon team, and the combined schools of Saluda-Tryon are expected to present a powerful eleven this year.

Due to the loss of Frank Saunders, speedy lefty halfback, who left for Coach Weatherby has been shifting players around quite a bit for the week. Billy Milner, fleet-footed guard, will probably be given a chance at one of the backfield posts, with Davis, 190 pounder, filling in at his position. This move, while it may weaken the reserve strength of the squad, will place a heavier man in the line, and put more speed in the backfield.
