James Roosevelt Assumes New Duties

James Roosevelt, eldest son and secretary of the president, began his new job last week of conferring with the heads of the independent agencies and bureaus of the government. His task is to act as a "clearing house" passing on to his father problems of policy and administration questions which cannot be solved except by reference to the Chief Executive. On the occasion of the first meeting the agency heads lunched at the White House with James Roosevelt. "How was the lunch?" a reporter asked Mr. Kennedy. "All right," he replied, and then added, "I believe I could do better at home."

Fire Causes Big Damage In Plant Of Mountaineer

is being handled in several shops in this section.

Although the staff has been handicapped this week and will be until the office is repaired, they have all joined in and worked under the hardest kind of conditions.

The boiler and steam pipes of course, were put out of order, and the only heat available until today has been electric heaters.

The second floor was damaged by smoke, but no water was used there. The first floor did not get any of the fire. All the fire was confined to the ceiling of the boiler room and immediate space nearby.

Over half the flooring in the composing room had to be supported by special braces before work could be started on tearing down the machines.

The building is owned by George H. Ward, of Asheville. The owner of the building and the publishers of The Mountaineer were partly covered by insurance.

Behind the Scenes in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Since her sun stroke, Bette Davis is so fearful of another attack that the Warner star is having smoked glass installed in her automobile and in the windows of the solarium at her home. Though Hollywood won't admit it, the stories circulated about Jean Harlow's fatal illness being due to a severe case of sunburn has caused many a star to take precautions against over-exposure.

Bette Davis

Those who should know say that Barbara Stanwyck is now enjoying an incognito visit to New York and will return to the coast, via the Panama canal. The star has collected a number of raps from eastern papers for the secrecy with which she has surrounded her present trip. Which looks as if there is no way for a Hollywood celebrity to please everybody.

Robert Taylor was even more loudly rapped for that orgy of publicity in New York.

Scott Fitzgerald's 16-year-old daughter, Scotty, leaves the film colony torn between amusement and shock. She is naively and completely frank. At a recent party she wanted to know if Loretta Young wasn't embarrassed by the compliments the men were paying the star. Meeting Winchell's daughter, Walda, she inquired if Walda also was a gossip, on account of her father. And, when Joan Crawford was showing her a scrap book, she suddenly asked if the star didn't get bored having to look at all those pictures of herself.

What's going on, a gag? Judy Canova, who recently announced she was fed up with Edgar Bergen, is now clowning around with Tommy Wunder, the dancer, who does part of his act with a dummy partner.

The prices of apples this year kinda reminds me of the good ole days. Seems that there's too much good eating in apples for 'em to be so low.

But then, I reckon it kinda evens up on other things, 'cause I was in Burgin's Basement tuther day and they had men's heavy work shoes with composition soles for only $1.29. And right next to 'em they had dress shoes for us men at $1.49. Now there's a lot of work to make a pair of shoes, and a lot of wear in the kind that Burgin sells—so as I was a saying, things even up in the long run.
