MRS. HUGH A. LOVE HOSTESS TO WAYNESVILLE MUSIC CLUB

The Waynesville Music Club met Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. Hugh A. Love. The residence was arranged in quantities of spring flowers, jonquils, sweet peas, and other varieties. Mrs. Robert H. Stretcher, president, presided.

During the business period the following nominating committee was appointed by the president, chairman, Mrs. Hugh A. Love, Mrs. Lauriston Hardin, Jr., and Miss Margaret Terrell.

The program of the afternoon was of unusual interest, the subject being, "Our beginnings in secular music," with Miss Frances Robeson in charge. In giving the history of this period in music Miss Robeson started with the three men who founded the Philharmonic Society of New York, whose history embodied American music for the first half of the last century.

A sketch of the life of Frances Hopkinson, first American composer, was given. As an illustration of his work, Miss Grace Crocker played, "Beneath a Weeping Willow Tree."

Next under study was the life of Charles Edward Horne, singer, pianist, and composer. As an example of his compositions, Mrs. Lawrence Green accompanied by Miss Crocker sang "Mr. Mulchanhey, Esquire," from "Through the Streets of New York."

Other numbers representing the period presented were: "A Federal March," by Alexander Riegnle, an abolitionist, who before coming to America was a member of the Society of Musicians, and afterward became a teacher of Nellie Curtis, granddaughter of Martha Washington, was played by Mrs. Hugh Love.

Mrs. Tom Spurlock, accompanied by Miss Crocker, sang "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," by Joseph Phillips Knight, composer of ballads, and clergyman. Mrs. Fred Martin, accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Matney, sang, "Kathleen Marvourneen," by F. M. N. Couch.

Mrs. Lawrence Green, accompanied by Miss Crocker, sang "The Old Sexton," by Henry Russell. Miss Robeson also discussed the development of the minstrel, one of the most distinctive types of the period which flourished under the direction of Thomas Rice, popular both in America and England.

A traditional "Walk Over," "Walk in Jerusalem Just Like John," was sung by Miss Ida Jean Brown. Favorite hits "Dixie," "Old Dan Tucker," and "Turkey in the Straw," were given by Miss Margaret Stringfield.

CANTON HOSTESSES GIVE PARTY AT COUNTRY CLUB

One of the largest affairs of the early spring season, was the contract party given at the Waynesville Country club on Monday evening by Mrs. Frank Jacobs, of Canton, the former Miss Eleanor Garrison, of Waynesville, and Miss Theo. Jantz, also of Canton.

The motif of the party was a variety of colors with spring flowers in all pastel shades, arranged in the spacious lounge, with punch served from an attractively arranged room adjoining the lounge.

The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. James M. Long in receiving the guests.

Contract was enjoyed at eighteen tables. When the scores were totaled, Miss Delma Mitchell was found to hold the top score, Miss Alta Watkins, the second high and Mrs. F. E. Iranson cut the consolation. When the cards were put away the guests were served an ice course, with the appointments reflecting the decorative motif.

The seventy-two guests included friends of the hostesses from Canton, Waynesville and Asheville.

MRS. WHITE MEASE TO HAVE SULGRAVE CLUB TODAY

Mrs. White Mease, president, will entertain the members of the Sulgrave Club with a social meeting at her home in the Kirkpatrick apartments this afternoon. The guests are invited to arrive at 2:30 o'clock and playing of contract will begin soon after.

In Fashion Now

Spring handbags are either long and narrow or deep oblongs. Besides the dark colors a very Thursday for an indefinite period. This goes beautifully with navy, gray or black.

Waterproofed silk is being used for the new raincoats and zippers run from top to bottom.

Chiffon evening capes are being shown and they are truly glamorous.

Pink in every shade is a favorite with some designers. A popular color combination for evening is black and pink.

A new wrinkle for people who wish to protect the hair while trying on clothes, is a net that fits over the head and face. It has a piece of cellulose where the lips come to protect the garments from lipstick.

Here And There are designed for high hair dressing . . . have brought back the necessity of the hat pin . . . which was once so prevalent . . . they were often expensive . . . and sold from the most exclusive jewelers . . . they also served as a wonderful and effective protection to a woman on any occasion . . . I've been told . . . the modern feminine bandit . . . with her automatic is no better armed than the girl who once flourished a couple of hat pins in her "Merry Widow" hat . . .

While in the woman's realm . . . I see notice of a new crusade . . . a beauty expert . . . is going to try to restore the blush . . . that women have been able to drop . . . when they took on sophistication . . . the expert says that after "several years of study she has decided . . . that the trouble with the American girl is spiritual hardening of the arteries" . . . and she intends to save them if she can . . . girls have stopped blushing, and most of them have forgotten how to blush, she says . . . the result is that they never get any blood in their faces . . . hence their skin fades . . . so she is forming a national association . . . of "Blush of the Mouth" clubs . . . the only requirement . . . for which . . . is to blush . . . she plans . . . to offer prizes for the best blushers . . . at present she claims that Sonja Henie and Helen Hayes are the best blushers among the women and Robert Taylor among the men . . . and with such prestige . . . I should think that all the girls would be trying to cultivate a blush . . .

IT'S COATS AND SUITS for SPRING

And everyone can find a suitable 1938 style. They are so smartly tailored. So wearable.

Then Too

There is a style for any figure. Three of the best are:

1. The man tailored suit,
2. The topper suit with finger tip coat which may be worn separately.
3. The dress-maker suit—feminine in both lines and materials.

For The Sport Minded

The topper model is "tops". For the more conservative, the full length fitted coat is excellent.
