Miss Kathleen Hamrick Becomes Bride of Paul Davis

In Fashion Now

Costume jewelry is getting away from imitations of the real thing. Most of the latest pieces frankly inexpensive, crystal balls in clusters and large clips are popular at the moment.

Prints are being influenced by the Persians. Colors in various circles and angles are beautiful beyond description.

Flowers, berries and even snow white and the seven dwarfs are being used as designs for spring prints.

One navy dress with a white star design has a coat of navy wool. The dress is full in front but plain in the back.

Other dresses have appliqued flowers. A combination very new is that of white organdy carnations made with loose petals, scattered over a black crepe bodice.

SUB DEBS HAVE PARTY

On Thursday evening a group of the younger set entertained with a party in the assembly hall of the American Legion home. Punch and cakes were served throughout the evening.

Assisting in receiving were: Mr. and Mrs. White Mease, Mrs. Charles Burgin, Miss Hester Ann Withers, Miss Jewel Higgs, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dale Stentz, and Mr. Frank Ferguson.

Those attending included, Miss Vera Husalook, Miss Jane Stentz, Miss Emory Haynes, Miss Lula Mae Thrift, Miss Mary Stentz, Miss Winifred Rogers, Miss Helen Plott, Miss Anna Con, Miss Corinne Alley, Miss Virginia King, Miss Virginia Kellett, Miss Catherine Martin, Miss Betty Burgin, Miss Betty Plott, Miss Stacy Wuburn, Miss Martha Dieus.

MR. AND FRANK B. DAVIS TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Davis, of Canton, will hold open house on Sunday, March 13th, at their home on Beaverdam street in observance of their wedding anniversary. The date also marks the anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Chappell, who will receive with the latter's parents.

Friends of both couples are asked to call from four to six o'clock. No formal invitations have been issued.

ASSOCIATE HOSTESSES ENTERTAIN U. D. C. Chapter

The regular March meeting of the Haywood chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was held on Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. T. L. Bramlett and Mrs. George Plott as associate hostesses, at the home of the former. Mrs. Mrs. W. L. McCracken, president, presided.

Mrs. Grover C. Davis had the paper of the afternoon, the subject of which was "The Battles of Chettanooga." Mrs. Davis gave in graphic detail the events leading up to the battles of Lookout Mountain and Murfreesboro, and explained how the battle of Chettanooga was one of the bloodiest and hardest fought of any in the War Between the States. She stated that both sides claimed the victory at Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge. She referred to Lee's great military tactics, telling of the trenches as one of his contributions to methods of warfare, still in use.

During the business session plans were discussed for the memorial service to be observed on May 10th at which time crosses of honor will also be presented.

Plans were formulated for the district meeting which has been set for May 20th, at which time the state president, Mrs. John Anderson, will be present.

Letters of appreciation were read from several of the inmates of the Old Ladies' Home in Fayetteville, which is supported by the state U. D. C., thanking the members for gifts.

Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. J. F. Cabe, Mrs. W. Walker, and Mrs. J. R. Boyd. A social hour followed adjournment.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson left on Monday for New York, where they will spend a week with the former's sister, Mrs. George Ives, of Essex, England, who will sail shortly for her home. Mrs. Ives had intended to leave several days ago, but the ship she planned to take was burned.

Of social interest in North Carolina is announcement of the marriage of Miss Kathleen Mayes Hamrick to Paul Lawson Davis of Waynesville and Asheville, which took place Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on West Marion street, Shelby.

The marriage vows were spoken before an altar of green and white arranged before the mantle in the east living room. Pine boughs in front of the fireplace served as a background for the potted ferns and Easter lilies. On each side of the altar white tapers were arranged along the mantle, their light reflected in the mirror above it.

Dr. Zeno Wall, pastor of the First Baptist church, read the marriage service in the presence of a small group of relatives and close friends.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Ben Suttle, vocalist, and Miss Selma Benoy, pianist. Mrs. Suttle's vocal solo numbers were: "Because," by D'Hardelot and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," by Stultz. Before the ceremony Miss Benoy played "I Will Take You Home Again, Kathleen" and "Indian Love Call," and as a ceremony accompaniment she played "Dream River," by Kern. Wagner's wedding processionals from "Lohengrin" and the recessional by Mendelssohn were used.

Miss Benoy wore an afternoon frock of navy blue sheer crepe, finished with tiny ruching of white lace in neck and sleeves, and wore a shoulder spray of pink roses. Mrs. Suttle's dress was of dusty pink crepe and she wore a bouquet of talisman roses.

O. V. Hamerick, Jr., brother of the bride, and A. V. Hamerick, Jr., her cousin, served as ushers and lighted the candles.

The bride and bridegroom entered the ceremony room together, unattended. The bride wore a modish spring suit of French blue, trimmed with grey squirrel, and used navy blue accessories. Her flowers were gardenias and lilies of the valley arranged in a shoulder bouquet.

Mrs. Davis, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Hamerick, was educated at Mitchell college, Statesville, and Meredith college, Raleigh. She is pretty and attractive and one of Shelby's most popular girls.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Davis, of Waynesville, attended Wake Forest college, where he was a member of Pi Gamma Sigma fraternity, and State College, Raleigh, where he was graduated in the class of '37. He is located in Asheville where he holds a position with the Appalachian experiment station of the National Forestry service.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., where they will spend a week. Upon their return they will be home in the Maxie apartments, Asheville.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hamerick entertained the wedding guests at an informal reception. Assisting in receiving and entertaining were Mrs. A. V. Hamerick, Mrs. Vernon Kiser and Mrs. V. F. Hamerick. Mrs. Hershel Blanton and Mrs. R. H. Hamerick poured punch and Misses Ruth DePriest, Sara Munday Hamerick, and Katherine Blanton served.

Floor baskets and large bowls of plum blossoms and spirea were used with pleasing effect in the rooms of the lower floor, where wedding guests were entertained. A large bowl of mixed white blossoms centered the refreshment table in the dining room, against a decorative lace cloth.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Davis, of Waynesville, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haynes, of Canton, Sammie Bushnell, Howard Hyatt and Glenn Wyatt, of Waynesville, Mrs. Pender Capp and daughter, Nancy Grey, of Jacksonville, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kiser, Wilbur Kiser and Norman Kiser, all of Lincolnton, Mr. and J. A. Kiser and son, James A. Kiser, Jr., of Polkville, and Mr. and Clinton Rankin, of Gastonia.

MRS. WHITE MEASE ENTERTAINS SULGRAVE CLUB

Mr. Robert Dedmond, of Tryon, was the guest during the week-end of Iris Buckner.

PARTY GIVEN AT COUNTRY CLUB

A delightful affair of the week was the dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Long and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Richeson on Friday night at the Waynesville Country Club. The guests were served at small tables in the lounge, which were centered with green candles, and all the appointments and party accessories bore the St. Patrick motif.

When the scores were totaled Mrs. Dan Watkins held the high among the women and Dr. Robert H. Stretcher was the top scorer among the men. In the played off prize contest, Mrs. Ben Colkitt won among the women and Mr. C. C. White won the man's prize.
