

Along the POLITICAL FRONTS

there is a moral question involved. But the day Mr. Whitmire announced, the newspaper editorially, indirectly, put their stamp of approval on the Henderson candidate. Not in 15 years, has this been done before, if the memory of this writer is correct.

Political advertisements for Mr. Whitmire have already appeared in The Transylvania Times, in Brevard, the native home of the young candidate.

But regardless of the progress Mr. Whitmire makes right now, it must be remembered that Mr. Weaver has for years, always staged a last minute campaign, when he did campaign. Most of his campaigning is done in a quiet way. Whether he will follow this same policy this year is not publicly known. It might be that he will meet Mr. Whitmire in an early campaign, while on the other hand, he may resort to the former system which has kept him in Congress for 20 years.

The solicitor's race—Queen, of Waynesville, and Jones of Bryson City—is seldom mentioned in Haywood. Mr. Queen will have the advantage of contested races in Haywood, which will bring out more Haywood voters. At first it looked like there would be but little interest in the primary, but that thought is no longer true, and Haywood is expected to be almost solid for Mr. Queen.

State Grange Head Heard At Bethel

Harry B. Caldwell, Master of the State Grange, spoke to the members of the Pigeon Valley Grange last Monday night.

Mr. Caldwell made a most interesting and forceful address. He discussed the world situation, showing how major conflicts affect the cotton and the tobacco farmers of North Carolina. He showed how our unemployment problem is a menace to democracy.

The State master discussed the need of co-operation on the part of farmers in helping to solve agricultural problems. The need of research to develop new uses of farm crops. He stated: "That the farmer must lower his cost of production if he expects to make a profit." "That the farmer should not expect to receive high prices for his crops in the future."

Mr. Caldwell also spoke very briefly on the seven point program of the State Grange and some of the accomplishments of the organization during the past year.

The Pigeon Valley Grange went on record asking that a letter be sent to Secretary Wallace asking for one of the research laboratories be placed in North Carolina.

The local grange will meet again Monday night, April 11, at 8 o'clock.

Judge A. J. Rose Passes In Miami

Summer Resident Here For Many Years, Had Been Ill Since October

Friends here have been notified of the death in Miami on March 31, of Judge Andrew Jackson Rose, 77, summer resident of this section for many years, having one of the most attractive summer homes in this section.

Stricken with influenza last October, he never returned to his law practice in Miami. The illness weakened him and complications and severe heart attacks followed.

A native of Madisonville, La., a small town near New Orleans, Judge Rose had been a resident of Miami for the past 25 years. It is said that Judge Rose claimed that he got his education three ways—in the common schools of New Orleans, by tutor and in the "University of Hard Knocks."

Admitted to the bar in New Orleans he went to Florida and practiced law in Kissimmee and Pensacola, later moving with his family to Gainesville, Miss.

In the early spring of 1913 Attorney Rose was sitting in his office overlooking the Mississippi river, coming down with a rush and just getting ready to overflow its banks. Discouraged by flood waters and the Burial was in the cemetery adjoining the church.

The Court of Honor for the Haywood county district of Boy Scouts, which was planned for Tuesday the 12th at the Haywood county court house, has been postponed until Friday the 15th, according to Ben Colkitt, district chairman.

The change in the date is due to the conflict with the day of the regional meeting which will be held in Spartanburg on the 12th, which will include the scout leaders from North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

The meeting in Spartanburg will open at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning at the Cleveland Hotel. Any person interested in scouting is privileged to attend.
