MRS. JAMES R. BOYD HOSTESS TO U. D. C. CHAPTER

The Haywood chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy held the regular April meeting with Mrs. James R. Boyd, Jr. The afternoon was opened with the usual ritualistic services. Mrs. W. L. McCracken, president, presided.

Mrs. L. M. Killian had prepared the paper, but as she was detained at home by illness, Mrs. W. F. Swift read it. The subject was on "Vicksburg," and in a very interesting manner Mrs. Killian presented the dramatic story of the fall of Vicksburg, and the part it had in the history of the Confederacy. She also told of the present day interest in the city, and the attractions it has to offer the visitor.

The greater part of the business period was devoted to completion of the plans for the Silver Anniversary district meeting, which will be held here in May.

The president appointed the following committee: Reception, Mrs. R. N. Barber, Mrs. W. A. Hyatt, Mrs. J. Harden Howell, Mrs. L. M. Killian, and Miss Robena Miller; registration, Mrs. J. R. Boyd, Jr., Mrs. C. F. Kirkpatrick, and Mrs. John M. Queen.

Program, Mrs. Frank Ferguson, Miss Nancy Killian, and Mrs. R. H. Blackwell; the committee on hospitality was divided into two groups, the first, with Mrs. T. L. Bramlett, Mrs. N. W. Garrett, Mrs. Sam Queen, and Mrs. N. M. Medford, and the second, Mrs. O. R. Martin, Mrs. Thad Howell and Mrs. George Platt, Mrs. F. E. Alley, Jr., and Mrs. Will Hyatt will have charge of table decorations for the luncheon.

Tickets, Mrs. Grover C. Davis, Mrs. E. J. Hyatt, and Mrs. Johnnie Ferguson. Pages, Mrs. W. F. Swift, director, and pages, Mary Lee Alley, Sarah Louise Leatherwood, Kathryn Queen, and Mildred McCracken.

During the social hour the hostess was assisted by Miss Kathryn Queen in serving. Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. G. C. Platt, Mrs. W. H. Luther, Mrs. Manson Shook, and Mrs. V. C. Nobeck.

Miss Lois Harrold, who has spent the winter at the home of Miss Alice Quinlan, has gone back to her residence on Haywood street.

In Fashion Now

Handbags seem bigger and simpler. Flat bags, square or oblong, of good leathers seem to be favorites.

Colored crocodile is popular for bags. They come in strawberry patch, corn flower blue, butter scotch and other colors and can be matched up with belts and shoes of the same color and materials.

But lack of trimming is very noticeable. Gloves are smooth and without stitching, while the bags depend on material and line for individuality.

A snappy glove is made of two materials—for instance, a suede back may be combined with a cape skin palm. Or two colors maybe combined.

Some of the new hats resemble a huge bouquet of flowers sitting upon the head.
