Large Crop Of Spinach Harvested In County This Year

Applications Signed For 1939 Green Beans Now On Market Started This Week

Despite the fact that the spring crop was not favorable for the growing of spinach, which is becoming a major farm crop of the county, the experimental work has passed the experimental stage, according to Frank M. Davis, superintendent of the Haywood County Canning Association.

There were sold in the county between May 10th and June 10th 100 tons of spinach, with 50 per cent sold on the green vegetable market, which netted the growers 10 per cent more than the local canners originally contracted.

Interest in the growing of spinach has greatly increased from the record, and already applications for growing next year have been received from the local canners. It is expected that a much increased acreage for next season. One reason for this is attributed to the fact that as a cash crop it can be harvested early and the ground may be utilized for a second crop of some other product.

Spinach that was diverted to green markets was shipped to Atlanta and Charlotte, with the greatest amount to the first named. Davis states that if the grower follows the directions given by the county, a good crop is assured. He says an application of stable manure to the soil in January, and that the ground be prepared, after which 100 to 1200 lbs. of 5-7-5 fertilizer should be used. The rows should be spaced 14 to 16 inches apart, with 10 to 12 seeds to an acre. If grown in rows the foregoing 8 to 15 lbs. of spinach should be produced on an acre.

Spinach is being cannered by the canning industry in and around the county. All bean contracts have been closed and manager Davis has been instructed to sign no more contracts for a year as his quota has been filled.

M. Smathers, of Henderson delivered 125 bushels of beans last week. They were the first from one and half acres to have at least 2 or 3 pickers better than the first before the beans were picked. Beans picked at 4c, 7c and 9c a bushel, depending on quality.

Davis states that he expects around 100 tons of blackberries. The crop is a good one this year. The canning of blackberries will start after the 4th of July.

REV. ALBERT NEW

Rev. Albert New Called To Church In Clearwater, Fla.

Tenders Resignation As Rector Of Grace Episcopal Church After 23 Years Service

Rev. Albert New, rector of Grace Episcopal church for the past twenty-three years, has tendered his resignation as rector of the local church to take effect on October the first. Mr. New has accepted a call to become rector of the Church of the Ascension, Clearwater, Fla.

Regret is expressed by all the congregations in the community over Mr. New's resignation. He has been an influential leader not only in religious circles, but in the worthwhile civic projects, in addition to rendering his own church an inestimable service.

His first work after his coming to Grace church was the elimination of an old debt of $1,000; then the installation of the pipe organ at a cost of $2,000, and the introduction of the vesting choir. This was followed by further embellishments of the Parish church in new electric fixtures and chandeliers, alms bason, collection plates, processional cross, six memorial windows, carpet, altar hangings, and dossal and a pipeless furnace. The Parish House was built at a cost of $6,000. The entrance to the church has been improved by rock walls, sidewalk, and cement paths. The improvements have totaled a sum of $12,000.

Mr. New was born in Durham, England, in 1874. He was educated in the Boys' model school of that city and in the University of Durham, taking the bachelor's degree in 1894, exhibitor and prizeman of sacred theology in 1898 and master of arts in 1897. In the same year he was ordained to the ministry in Lichfield Cathedral, England.

His first church was in his native country, as rector at Sturmer, Essex, England, where he was located for several years. While there he married Miss Dora Gower, who was organist of the church.

Mr. New came America in 1908 and lived for a while in Philadelphia. His first rectorate in this country was in Weldon, N. C., where he was located from 1912 to 1915. He came to Waynesville in 1915 and has since resided here as rector of Grace church.

In addition to his church activities, Mr. New has been prominent in the Masonic circles, having been honored with some of the highest positions in the state. He has been the presiding officer of all the four bodies in Waynesville—the lodge, Royal Arch chapter, council and commandery. In the state he has served as grand prolate of all four Masonic bodies. In the Scottish Rite, he is a 32 degree Mason.

Mr. New's contact with the Clearwater church was made in the winters of 1916 to 1920, as supply rector in charge of the old church. Since that time a large new handsome stone edifice has been erected. During the past winter, Mr. New again served as temporary rector.

Mrs. R. H. Dempsey and children, Bobby and Patsy, of Harlan, Ky., were the guests during the week of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Snyder.

Gov. Hoey Says Present Time Is Golden Opportunity For Church

Large Crowd Attend Opening Of Lake Junaluska On Annual Haywood County Day

Honoring the wholesome relationship between Haywood county and the Methodist Assembly here, Haywood County Day was observed Sunday by Governor Clyde R. Hoey, of North Carolina, as guest speaker at 1 a. m., and the Rev. G. Ray Jordan, of Winston-Salem, at the hour for evening worship.

Haywood County Day opened a nine weeks' daily schedule of educational and recreational activities under the auspices of the Methodist Assembly.

In the opening moments of Sunday morning's observance of Haywood County Day, J. M. Ormond, presiding officer, paid tribute to the life and work of the late James Atkins, former superintendent.

Notable Haywood counts were seated on the platform with Governor Hoey and officials of the assembly staff included Charles E. Ray, Jr., of Waynesville who delivered the address of welcome on behalf of Haywood county.

According to old timers the crowd which filled the open air auditorium was probably the largest opening day crowd in the history of the assembly.

Charles Ray, welcoming the speaker and audience lauded Governor Hoey, whose efficient administration, he said, has been an inspiration to the citizenry of the state and to the governors of other states and whose personal example of the Christian way of living was worthy of emulation. Mr. Ray also paid tribute to Mrs. Hoey, who was present, and whose interest and activity in the welfare of the state had won for her a warm place in the hearts of North Carolinians.

Spider On Display Attracts Attention

Several hundred people have stopped at the window of the Waynesville Book Company during the past week to take a look at the black widow spider which has been on display. It was found last Thursday morning under a water meter on Dave Cabel's place between Waynesville and Hazelwood.

The specimen carried four cocoons on it back, one of which hatched out and contained four or five hundred baby spiders.

The black widow is said to be one of the most poisonous insects with a dangerous bite. This particular specimen was placed on exhibit in order that the citizens of the community might become familiar with it and avoid contact with the deadly insect. It is found in cellars, barns and out-buildings, around old wood and rock piles, and occasionally in fields. It can be identified, it is said, by the red "hour glass" on the under part of the body.

If one is bitten it is of the utmost importance to get a doctor at once to give the necessary injection into the veins.

In the early autumn Father Lane will take up his duties in the Arch-diocese of Cincinnati, representing the Arch-Bishop in an American missionary society throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. He has made many friends, during his sojourn in the mountains, not only among his own parishioners, but among those of other congregations.

Seven new members were received into the club during the year.

"Our Bob" Discloses Secret Art Of His Power Over Voters

Drew Pearson and Robt. S. Allen, editors of The Washington Merry-Go-Round column, which gives from time to time a keen personal slant on politics as played in the capital, say that Senator Bob Reynolds, who won a hands-down renomination victory a few weeks ago, took time out in the closing rush of Congress to give some campaign advice to his much worried colleague, Senator Milard ("Milord") Tydings, of Maryland, who faces a desperate re-election contest.

"Milard," said the brilliant Reynolds, "don't talk issues. No, sir, don't waste any time on that. That's risky business. Your opponent might get the better of you in that kind of argument. What you want to do is to talk about the alien within our gates. That's the stuff that gets the votes."

"Tell 'em about 7,000,000 aliens in the country who are keeping good red-blooded, patriotic Americans out of jobs, and costing the taxpayers millions for relief. The alien within our gates, that's the thing to feed 'em. Take my advice Milard. I know. It worked like a charm for me."

At last the mystery of "Our Bob's" art to get the votes is solved.
