U. D. C. CHAPTER HAS DECEMBER MEETING

Mrs. R. N. Barber was hostess on Friday afternoon of the Haywood chapter of the Confederacy for the regular December meeting, Mrs. Nobel Garrett, president, presided.

Mrs. Frank Ferguson, historian, reported that she had presented the declamation contest to the teachers in the junior high school, and that they had pledged their support to the students. She also stated that a number of Confederate magazines had been discovered and that she made arrangements with Miss Helen Medford to have them bound in book form and that they would be on file for reference in the Waynesville Public Library.

The president appointed Mrs. F. E. Alley, Jr. as chairman, and the following committee to decorate the stage of the high school auditorium for the annual declamation contest on Jan. the 19th. Mrs. John M. Queen, Miss Robena Miller, and Mrs. J. Harden Howell.

Mrs. C. F. Kirkpatrick reported the sale of 242 flags on Confederate Flag Day, which was recently observed by the chapter.

Mrs. Ernest J. Hyatt and Mrs. T. L. Bramlett were appointed to have charge of the Christmas gifts for veterans in the county, and to send annual Christmas cheer to the inmates of the Old Ladies Home in Fayetteville.

It was decided to give a book over to the library of the junior school, with each member making contribution.

In the absence of Mrs. W. A. H. Mrs. James R. Boyd, Jr., read a winning essay, "The Cause That Led to the War Between the States," which had been written by Mrs. A. Y. Kerr.

A social hour followed adjournment at which time the hostess was assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Barber, in serving.

Mrs. B. F. Smathers left during the week for Chicago, where she will spend several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Joe Rose.
