Cold Coughs May Soon Be Quarantined To Stop Spread

There is growing sentiment that colds and coughs should be quarantined. They spread so rapidly they cause more loss of time from illness than all other diseases combined. To stop a cold cough immediately get Mentho-Mulsion. Mentho-Mulsion is the formula of the dean of pharmacy of a large mid-western university and contains nine cold fighting elements, including vitamins A and D to build up cold resistance. Mentho-Mulsion stops coughing and relieves that

OH, YEAH (Tri-County News)

Many exaggerated statements about this section of the country have appeared in newspapers of the North from time to time, but an account in the Marlboro (New Hampshire) Sentinel tops all of them in leaving the impression that the rare conditions are the rule. This newspaper account allegedly reported a talk made before the woman's society of the first Congregational church of that city by Miss Marguerite Hammond, who lived in Spruce Pine for three years with her parents when her father, W. D. Hammond, was chemist for the Southern Feldspar company at Toecane. The article follows in part:

"Miss Marguerite Hammond, of Marlboro, formerly of Keene, gave an interesting account of three years work among mountaineers in Spruce Pine, North Carolina, at the program meeting of the Woman's society of the First Congregational church, Wednesday afternoon, in the parish house. More than 75 women attended. Mrs. Willis E. Smith led the devotions. Flute solos were played by Miss Arlene Ames, of Keen High school, accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. Robie Ames.

"Miss Hammond described a typical North Carolina home of from one to three rooms, unpainted, built of logs, with no cellar, no doors inside, one small window and usually with only one floor. The walls are covered with newspapers. The stove is made of a tar barrel. There is an outdoor fireplace used to make molasses, she said. The washing is done out of doors and hung to dry on nearby bushes. All adults chew tobacco. The boys help out the family fuel supply by throwing tomatoes and rotten apples at the coal trains as they pass through. Coal is in turn thrown at them and the boys gather it afterward to take home.

"The settlement of personal quarrels on the street is of common occurrence and offenders are treated lightly in spite of the sometimes serious consequences of the fray.

"The speaker stated that highway construction is done entirely by convict labor, the men being paid a small wage, part of which is sent to their families and part saved to give them a start when their term of imprisonment is ended.

"Miss Hammond said there are many churches, mostly of the Baptist and Presbyterian denominations, and she described the religious fervor which prevailed in their meetings which are of long duration.

"Mrs. Conrad A. Adams presided at a short business meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. B. Norton Foster, Mrs. Lowell J. Aran, Mrs. Earle C. Quinby and Mrs. Charles F. Fletcher."

The editor of The Tri-County News has lived about half of the time during the last thirty years in this section, and the rest of that time in Chicago, Cleveland, Washington, and New York. At present he spends one week at his home in Spruce Pine and the alternate weeks in business in New York.

Based on this experience, it seems entirely safe to say there is at least as much poverty, suffering and squalor in these cities as there is in the poorest communities of this section. In fact, the housing of the majority of the people in these and other great centers, is far worse than all except the most extreme local cases.

There are many inadequate homes in all of the North Carolina mountains, just as there are everywhere. But a log cabin is as rare here as it is in New Hampshire, probably more so, since many summer homes there are of logs.

The item about the boys throwing ancient fruit and vegetables at the coal trains to draw a return fire of fuel probably did happen once or twice when Miss Hammond saw it. But whoever saw a Clinchfield brakeman riding a loaded coal car, let alone throwing coal from it?

When it comes to work on the highways, the convicts are used only for maintenance. All con-stuffed-up feeling immediately. It acts quickly to soothe and heal the feverish, irritated membranes and is guaranteed to rid you of your cold cough entirely within the shortest possible time or every cent of the small cost will be promptly refunded. Mentho-Mulsion is safe to use and should be kept on hand for immediate use on the first appearance of a cold or cough.

Mentho-Mulsion is endorsed by your neighbors and guaranteed by leading druggists everywhere—adv.
