The Sunday School Lesson

ISAIAH GIVES GOD'S INVITATION

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 5 is Isaiah 55, the Golden Text being Isaiah 55:6: "Seek ye Jehovah while He may be found; call ye upon Him while He is near.")

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The whole of the 55th chapter of Isaiah should be memorized, as its message is written in such beautiful language, but more especially for its invitation to leave the things that bring no real happiness and to come unto the Lord, and partake of the big things of life that satisfy.

"Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. "Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labor for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto Me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fastness."

This fare we are offered, of course, is not food for the body, but spiritual nourishment which leaves no indigestion or unpleasantness, but gives one comfort and joy.

As a good mother knows what is best to feed her children, so God knows what is good for us—what will bring us refreshment for our souls, peace and rest, real happiness.

THINGS BRING NO JOY

Why do we spend money on mere material things? We must eat to live, of course, and we must have clothing and homes in which to live, but much of our money goes for things that really don't make us any happier. We grow tired of them, disillusioned with what earth has to offer us of pleasure. What is wrong? Our souls are hungry for spiritual food, and they can only be satisfied by it. "Incline your ear, and come unto me; hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David," Isaiah says.

And again: "Seek ye Jehovah while He may be found; call ye upon Him while He is near: "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto Jehovah, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon."

That is the way to be happy and secure, whether times are good or bad, and even when grief and tragedy come to us. We can repent of our wrong-doing, turn to the good, and rest on the promises of the Lord. "He will abundantly pardon," for He is merciful, and pardon follows mercy.

God's ways and His thoughts are far higher than ours. The prophet reports Jehovah as saying: "For My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways My ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways, and My thoughts than your thoughts."

"For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from Heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater: So shall my word be . . .

"For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."

"Instead of the thorn shall come forth the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree; and it shall be to the Lord for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off."

Haven't you been out in the country, or in some peaceful place where the mountains did indeed seem to "break forth into singing," and the trees to "clap their hands"? In other words, because your soul was happy and peaceful, all nature seemed in tune with your mood.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we always could feel like that? If this peace "that passeth understanding," could be ours because we "cast our burden on the Lord," and we are forgiven of our sins and all is well?

Girls Are Advised To Build-Up For Relief

Lack of knowledge causes many a weak, undernourished girl a lot of suffering! Many others, however, know how the headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by the proper use of CARDUI. Some take it a few days before and during "the time," to help ease periodic distress. But CARDUI's principal use is to help increase appetite; stimulate the flow of gastric juice; so aid digestion, assist in building up physical resistance and thus help reduce periodic distress. Women have used CARDUI for over 50 years.
