

Campbell Grazes Third More Cattle On Improved Pasture

C. Campbell, Ivy Hill Township.

As I come my time to write to you concerning the results of the triple superphosphate that I used on my farm. I sowed superphosphate on my pasture and at the rate of 200 pounds per acre and also some lime. I received very good results from this phosphate and lime pasture. I found that I grazed one-third more cattle on this pasture and found a great difference in them. They were much better, with more in number, than I had before on the same pasture. I am positive, and know it's true, I say that time and money spent on using lime and superphosphate on pasture, I put seven tons of lime per acre, and in 1939 I received one-third more good quality on this land where I had the lime in 1938.

I am ready to praise and show the results of the use of lime and superphosphate on pastures and legumes.

Lime And Triple Superphosphate Improve Farm Of M. L. Messer

M. L. MESSER

M. L. Messer, Jonathan Creek Township

In my estimation, I have always done fairly good farming; however, in 1935 I was taken on as a unit test demonstration farmer in Jonathan Creek township. I began to use lime and triple superphosphate on the grasses and legumes on my farm and have received very good results from the use of this lime and phosphate.

With the use of crimson clover and lespedeza and other legumes in my farm rotation, I have improved my land to where it is growing 60 bushels of corn per acre now, as compared with 30 bushels per acre before I began using lime and phosphate on grasses and legumes.

Outstanding results have been obtained from the use of lime and phosphate on pasture land and I will say that I have doubled the amount of grazing capacity on my pastures and also produced more milk and fattened more beef cattle since I have been using lime and phosphate on these pastures.

I think our Demonstration Farm Program is a great help to the farmers of Haywood County. There are many other ways the Demonstration Farm Program also helps the farmers.

It's dangerous to lose your patience or your temper when you are behind a steering wheel.

Local Rotarians Attend Meeting

J. C. Brown, newly elected secretary of the Rotary Club and Ben E. Colkitt, retiring president, and Mrs. Colkitt attended the district meeting at Hickory recently.

The Waynesville club was given distinct recognition for having gained 33 per cent in membership during the year, and was one of the three clubs of 44 getting honorable mention for work accomplished.

WILKINS P. HORTON

Horton Is Qualified

(Editorial in The Warren Record, Warrenton, N. C.)

This newspaper will support Wilkins P. Horton for Governor of North Carolina in the primary to be held in May.

We have given study and serious consideration to the various candidates and what they say they stand for, and after weighing the matter carefully from every angle, we have come to the conclusion that Mr. Horton is the logical man to support.

He has to his advantage the benefit of proper training for the position, which he received while ably serving this State as Lieutenant Governor, and he strikes as being neither too radical nor too conservative. He has no fantastic promises to make, or new philosophy of government to propose. In other words, he appears to us to be a product of the Governor Hoey school.

Another thing we like about Mr. Horton is that although his ability and mental capacities have carried him to political heights, he apparently has not lost the common touch, as so many politicians of this State do except in election time. There is nothing fancy about Mr. Horton, and he doesn't pretend there is by parading under false colors or issuing vague promises which he knows in his heart cannot be carried out.

Mr. Horton is our man and we believe he will be yours, too, if you look over the large field of candidates and analyze their speeches and promises.
