Week Of 20-25 Set Aside For WPA Exhibits

Projects Of The Work Projects Administration Will Keep Open House

The projects of the professional and service division of the Works Projects Administration are making plans for a showing of "white collar" projects during the week of May the 20-25 according to a report given by the sponsors of the various projects in Haywood County. The week to be known as "WPA pays your community week," has been set apart for such exhibition of the work over the United States.

The week will constitute a report to the taxpayers. Such reports are an obligation of any government agency so that the people can see how and what the agency is accomplishing, it has been pointed out. Usually these reports are made up of compilations and figures. The report given during the week of May the 20-25 will show the actual thing itself, not what somebody has to say about it.

Plans for the week are being developed by a steering committee composed of sponsors, co-sponsors, supervisors, and workers of the various projects.

The week's activities will open with a project dinner on Monday night at 7:00 o'clock attended by sponsors, supervisors, project workers and interested community leaders. Throughout the week there will be open house on all the projects. The public is invited to visit these project units while the project is in operation and to see for themselves what is being done.

The list of projects of the professional and service division of the Work Projects Administration, now operating in the county include: Adult education, commodity distribution, indexing, library, lunch, canning and gardening, matron service, nursery school, music, and sewing.

The sponsors for these projects are the Haywood County board of commissioners and the board of education.

Today's Fashion

Half-and-half costume.

By VERA WINSTON

THE HALF-AND-HALF costume, patterned and plain, is popular for suits this spring. Here it is developed in navy and green plaid for the skirt, and navy wool (with a plaid collar) for the jacket. The jacket, to show that it is very new, is longer than the usual run of suit coats. The yoke terminates in a seam over the bust. The back is the same except for two inverted pleats in place of the seams. The skirt uses the plaid on the straight except for a panel center front, which is like one large box pleat.
