Main way it helps relieve periodic distress is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice. Thus it often aids digestion; helps build strength, energy, resistance to periodic disturbances.

Others find help for periodic discomfort this way: Start a few days before and take CARDUI until "the time" has passed. Women have used CARDUI more than 50 years.

THURSDAY—TORRID ZONE

O'Brien and Cagney are given dialogue comparable in pungency and point to that supplied the aforementioned characters, and Ann Sheridan is steadily on hand supplying what is called in the closing speech "Fourteen Karat Oomph."

There are, however, no newspapering and no warring, although plenty of shooting in the picture.

Directed for speed and punch, the film has "Case" utilizing one expedient after another to keep "Nick" in the banana company's service although "Nick" is all for returning to the States and a store job.

A native revolutionist given to frequent capture and escape from the constabulary precipitates a final shooting affair in which plot complications are dissolved without the loss of life and "Nick" decides to stay on the job and keep "Lee" with him.

FRIDAY—YOU'RE NOT SO TOUGH

Recently the screen has seen Marlene Dietrich in a western role and Edward G. Robinson portraying a kindly doctor. So it isn't surprising to learn that the Dead End Kids and Little Tough Guys have been removed from the brick and asphalt of the city and transplanted to a California ranch in roles of their new picture, "You're Not So Tough."

The Dead End Kids group includes five of the boys—Billy Halop, Huntz Hall, Gabriel Dell, Bernard Punsky and Bobby Jordan, all from the original "Dead End" stage production. In "You're Not So Tough" they will be seen as itinerant workers, following California's crops.

Nan Grey Featured

In supporting roles will be seen Nan Grey who has just finished several roles which mark her as one of the screen's really versatile youngsters. Nan appears as an "Okie" girl, struggling with her family, to keep body and soul together in the shanty-town, living places of the migrant "dust-bowlers," "Arkies" and "Okies" who have swarmed to California.

SATURDAY—HIDDEN GOLD

Assaying a higher content of plausibility than most diggings in the Hopalong Cassidy vein, this unfamiliarly rountined testimonial to the vigor and rigors of life in the Old West represents producer Harry Sherman at the peak of his ripe experience. There is no breakdown of plot, no advance disclosure of outcome, no stretching of coincidence, and no skipping of riding and gunplay. There is scenic background fit for filming in its own behalf.

OWL SHOW—A BILL OF DIVORCEMENT

The third version of the Clemence Dame stage play to reach the screen, and second to be made by RKO Radio, is a picture bearing unmistakable proof of painstaking craftsmanship in all departments; production, direction, writing and acting.

The story is of self-sacrifice on the part of a girl whose mother has been divorced from a husband adjudged insane. Returning unexpectedly, at least partially cured of his malady, he is on the point of preventing his former wife's remarriage when his daughter, told that the disease is hereditary, gives up her own marriage plans to stay with him and allow her mother to begin life anew.

SUNDAY—PRIVATE AFFAIRS

"Private Affairs" is a new Universal comedy starring Nancy Kelly, Robert Cummings, Hugh Herbert and Roland Young.

Announced as a modern and breezy story played against the background of staid Boston and its wealthy Back Bay, "Private Affairs" finds Roland Young as the scion of a family who for twenty years has chosen to be a "black sheep" rather than submit to the dictates of his parents.

Nancy Kelly as his daughter and Robert Cummings as a young attorney, provide the romantic interest. Hugh Herbert appears in the kind of hilarious role that he has made famous.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY—IF I HAD MY WAY

Two of Hollywood's finest songbirds are teamed in the co-starring roles of Universal's "If I Had My Way."

The songsters are Bing Crosby and 12-year-old Gloria Jean, who made her debut in "The Under-Pup."

The famous baritone and the amazing young soprano sing three duets in the picture, "Meet the Sun Halfway," "I Haven't Time to Be a Millionaire," and "Pessimistic Character."

Other song numbers in the comedy, drama are: "If I Had My Way," a solo by Crosby, "Little Gray Home in the West," a solo by Gloria, "April Played the Fiddle," by Bing and the Six Hits and a Miss "Ida" sung by the famous vaudevillian and minstrel man, Eddie Leonard, and the old time favorite, "Rings On My Fingers," sung by Blanche Ring, renowned figure of vaudeville.

WEDNESDAY—ON THEIR OWN

This is the seventeenth presentation of the Jones Family's affairs. Jed Prouty, reportedly desirous of breaking away from the paternal role in which he long has been featured, is not in this number, but the script has been written in such fashion as to account for his absence by indicating that the head of the house is in the hospital after a nervous breakdown brought on by financial reverses.

The family must sell the home. The mother salvages the family car and trailer, and they start for California with $400 in cash and hopes.
