Carl Underwood Marries Eastern Carolina Girl

Of interest locally was the marriage of Miss Helen Marie Hollowell, of Sanford and Carl Graybeal Underwood, also of Sanford, but formerly of Waynesville, which took place on Sunday afternoon, September 15th, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Snipes, in Sanford. The Rev. John E. Sawyer officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

The residence was beautifully decorated for the occasion, a color scheme of green and white being used throughout the rooms. Quantities of ferns, white asters, and lilies interspersed with numerous cathedral candles formed the background of the improvised altar before which the vows were spoken.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Fred Ray, Jr., pianist, played "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life, and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." Mrs. Ray also accompanied Mrs. W. H. White, soloist, who gave "Because," and "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," was softly played during the taking of the vows.

To the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, the bride descended the stair with her mother, Mrs. William Hollowell, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, John Edwin Dozier, Jr., of Sanford.

The bride wore a street length dress of junior blue with matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of pink roses and swansonia.

The only attendant was the bride's sister, who served as matron of honor.

Mrs. Underwood is the daughter of Mrs. William G. Hollowell and the late Mr. Hollowell, of Hobbsville. She is a graduate of Hobbsville high school and has been employed by the North Carolina State Employment Service for the past six years.

Immediately following the ceremony, the young couple left for a bridal trip to Western North Carolina and upon their return will make their home in Sanford.

stated that her first duty was to her religion, not to her family. The plaintiff is also said to have admitted that it was against her religious faith to salute the American flag and to sing "God Bless America." It was brought out that Jehovah's Witnesses hated all religions and made no pretense of keeping their views from the public.

In Canada it is said that to be a "Witness" is a prison offense, in Australia a demand is growing for suppression of the group, and that in Germany 6,000 of Jehovah's Witnesses are languishing in concentration camps.

It was brought out during the trial that Mrs. Jaynes had stayed away from her home and family for several weeks, attending the convention of the sect held in Detroit, which is reported to have been attended by some 35,000, with 25,000 being baptized.

It was learned following the trial that one of the lawyers of the defendant had in his possession eight volumes of the work of the sect on different subjects, all more or less defying the government. These books are distributed by the "Witnesses."

Although the plaintiff was asking that a reasonable amount be allowed her attorneys, yet there was said to be in the court all during the trial a lawyer from Atlanta, Ga., who was quietly working for the plaintiff.

Judge Warlick granted the father custody of the children eight months of the year, and specified that the period be the eight months in which they were in school. The mother is to have them during the 4 months of summer vacation. The wife was also granted alimony to be paid in different amounts, governed by the time the children are with her.

Other cases tried in the recent court included that of Chas. Roberts against the McCracken Furniture Company, involving an automobile accident, in which the plaintiff was given a verdict of nothing. The latter gave notice of an appeal to the Supreme court.

Three men were appointed by the judge to establish the cartway running through the property of Clem and Sam Fitzgerald, over which the brothers had been having a dispute.

In the case of Way Kinsland against J. D. Mackey, the latter a former tax collector of Canton, the defendant lost the case, but took an appeal to the Supreme court.

Physical examinations by regular army officers were made of all the men last week, starting on Monday and ending on Wednesday. A number were disqualified on account of physical disabilities, most of which were said to be minor defects.

It was reported that a number of men had volunteered for service on Saturday, who desired to be attached to Company "H," but that owing to the fact that blanks of applicants gave out in the Asheville recruiting office, where the men had to enlist, they were unable to be officially received into the army.

It was learned that some of these men had planned to have their application filled out this week and join the company at Fort Jackson.

Six new names were added to the company roster late Saturday, who were able to get applications in the Asheville office before the blanks gave out. They were: Robert B. Caldwell, Charlie Caldwell, Edward E. Arrington, Sylvester D. Mull, Robert C. McGaha, and George F. Scates.

Officers in Company "H" who left here Sunday included: Captain George F. Plott, First Lt. Edwin Paul Martin, Second Lts. James M. Davis, T. Grady Boyd, Chas. W. Edwards, Jr., and George E. Plott.

BUT WHY COURT-MARTIAL THE WHOLE REGIMENT?

THERE are bound to be one or two bad soldiers in every regiment. But why court-martial the whole regiment?

The same applies to beer retailing. Out of the 5,000 retailers in North Carolina, there is bound to be a small minority who disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.

The Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors Committee wants even this small minority of undesirable beer retailers eliminated entirely. To that end, the Committee cooperates with law enforcement officers in securing the revocation of the retail licenses of these objectionable outlets. One hundred and two licenses have been revoked during the past year.

Announcing the big NEW FORD 1941 FORD

In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does that for 1941.

It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards.

You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skillful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around.

One of its biggest advantages is the new soft ride.

New, slower-action springs give a slow, gentle, gliding movement. A newly designed stabilizer helps absorb road shocks, and maintains balance on sharp curves and in cross winds.

More rapid acceleration to match its familiar speed and power makes this new Ford an even livelier car to drive.

These are only a few of this new car's outstanding features. It represents all the rich experience gained in building more than 28 million motor cars.

Any Ford dealer can give you many good reasons for making this your 1941 car.
