Poultrymen Urged To Attend 1-Day Course In Sylva

The annual one-day poultry short course for poultrymen in Western North Carolina will be held next Monday, the 20th, in the court house in Sylva, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. Last year the course was given here, Approximately 150 poultrymen from this section of the state are expected to attend. The county agents are urging a large delegation from Haywood County.

One of the outstanding features of the day will be the egg show, A number of the Haywood poultryen have signified their intention enter exhibits.

The county agents have made the following suggestions in selecting the eggs for exhibition: Choose eggs uniform in size, shape, and color; eggs should weigh 24 to 26 ounces per dozen; eggs should be free from dirt or stains, having a smooth fine textured shell; if possible candle the eggs to be sure they are free from blood spots or meat spots; an entry of eggs will consist of one dezen; displays will be made on paper plates; there will be a class for both white and brown eggs.

Letters have been sent from the county agents' office to the poultrymen throughout the county. Transportation will be furnished te Sylva from Waynesville.

Head Of Wake Forest Once Auctioned Tobacco

They're telling a laugh-producing story on Dr. Thurman D. Kitchin, president of the Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, N. C.

Dr. Kitchin walked into the Wake Forest office of College Bursar E. B. Earnshaw and happened o make a remark about the prices eing paid for tobacco. Someone wanted to know what the college president knew about tobacco anyrav.

He forthwith stepped to a corner f the room, loosened his coat, and roceeded to "sell a pile of tobacco." Starting at 21 cents, he moved upward, and finally "knocked it down"
