First Educational Meet Called Of AAA Committees

All AAA committeemen are asked to meet in the court room of the court house at 9:30 o'clock on Friday the 7th for an all day meeting, according to J. C. Lynn, county farm agent.

The purpose of the meeting is to go over the provisions of the 1941 agricultural conservation program.

Jeff Enloe, district AAA fieldman, will be present to discuss the features of the program and to answer any questions that may arise about the work.

All farmers and business men are invited to attend and hear the discussions.

HELPING WITH PUBLICITY

Miss Anna Medford, of Waynesville, is among the students at the Women's College, Greensboro, assisting with the World Student Service Fund and Refuge Scholarship. The drive opens March 4th. Miss Medford is on the publicity committee.

Demonstration Farmers Plan 1941 Objectives

The demonstration farmers have set up 15 objectives for the coming year for their members, which include a comprehensive program.

The list is as follows: push the home beautification contest which is being sponsored by the First National Bank, of Waynesville; hold township farm planning meetings.

Hold township farm tours and select the outstanding demonstration farms in each township; sponsor the farm and home tour; sponsor the out-of-state tour; to sponsor the adult corn club of demonstration farmers for another year.

For demonstration farmers to have a column in the local paper; to continue the making of colored slides and motion pictures of farming in Haywood County; to promote better livestock (especially breeding animals) in both dairy and beef animals, and to promote better feeding of livestock on the farms.

To heal all eroded and gaudled areas in pastures on demonstration farms and to clean off pastures which need to be shrubbed or have broom sedge and briars cut with mowing machine; to further sponsor the REA program in the county to its completion.

For demonstration farmers and their wives to attend the Western North Carolina Farm and Home week; to sponsor the forestry program for erosion control being carried on in the county; to improve the quality of chickens on demonstration farms, and that each farm have a small farm flock; that each demonstration farms should have at least one more source of income on his farm in 1941 than in 1940.

Buncombe's Hog Law Explained

Buncombe County health officers have called attention to farmers outside of that county, of the 1937 law which forbids the importation of diseased hogs into Buncombe.

It was explained that farmers who are unfamiliar with the law sometimes take hogs to the livestock market in Asheville and misunderstandings arise when they are required to pay a fee for having the animals given a dose of anti-hog serum.

The 1937 act provides that all hogs carried into Buncombe county for feeding, breeding, sale or any other purpose must have a health certificate furnished by a qualified licensed veterinarian stating that the animals are free from disease and that each has been given a proper dose of the serum not more than 21 days previous to entry into the county.

578 Families Have New Mattresses Under Project

The Haywood County families whose incomes were not over $600 during 1940 are taking advantage of the mattress project that is under the supervision of the county farm and home demonstration agents.

It was learned this week that to date 578 farm families have received mattresses in Haywood.

All applicants are required to pay $1.00 which takes care of all expenses in connection with making the mattresses. The husband and wife are required to come in and assist in the manufacture of the mattress.

The mattresses are being made in the basement of the court house, with Mrs. Bess Crocker in charge. The National Youth Administration is cooperating in making the mattresses.

The cotton and mattresses are obtained by the farm agents through the federal surplus commodities administration. The one dollar takes care of the needles and thread.

After the family receives the first mattress, it is eligible to receive one additional mattress for each two children. That is, in a family of 4, they would be eligible for two mattresses, and a family of six would receive 3 mattresses.

Plans are now underway to make comforts during the spring and summer. Details of this program will be announced later.

All families who might qualify their order in the county agent's for mattresses are urged to leave office at once.

Iron Duff Club Has Interesting January Meeting

The January meeting of the Iron Duff home demonstration club proved most interesting. The meeting was held with Mrs. Grady Davis, with Miss Mary Margaret Smith, home demonstration agent, giving a talk on "Adjusting Farm Family Living in 1941."

Miss Smith also showed charts on landscaping grounds.

Several members of the club reported that they had entered the home beautification contest being sponsored by the First National Bank.

Project leaders have reports on poultry, gardening and clothing.

A tree naming contest was won by Mrs. John M. McClure.

The February meeting will be held with Mrs. Thurman Davis.

Tar Heels Drank Almost 300,000 Barrels Of Beer

North Carolina's beer consumption of 299,192 barrels in 1940 provided $3,124,482.79 in taxes to the federal, state, and local governments, according to an analysis by the Brewers and North Carolina Beer Distributors Committee.

The state collected $1,321,042.37 in licenses and excise taxes; the 98 counties $121,125; the cities and towns $25,000; and the federal government $1,657,333.42. The federal government's tax was based on $5.00 a barrel, for the first six months and $6.00 a barrel for the last six months of 1940.

The additional defense tax of $1.00 netted the federal government $161,375.57 for the last half of the year, according to these figures.

North Carolina consumed 299,191.57 barrels last year as compared with 301,700 barrels in 1939 and 264,025 barrels in 1938.

The annual business volume was estimated at $10,400,000.

Waynesville Youth Joins U. S. Navy During Week

Roy Knox Ashe, of Waynesville, was one of the five young men who volunteered last Friday at the Asheville naval recruiting station, from Western North Carolina.

Young Ashe with the other four were sent to the naval training station at Norfolk, Va., for preliminary training.

For March, 1940, white children under sixteen in county jails in North Carolina totaled sixty-eight. A new boat tested in the Moscow River of Russia can travel in the shallowest waters.
