

COCKTAIL GIRL

by MAY CHRISTIE

CHAPTER III

The earliest opportunity Henry had to get up the phone. "What are you doing, anyhow?" he asked. "Up all night, thoroughly exhausted and meets them in the kitchen and they look as if nothing had happened to them!"

"That's a queer sex!" That's a queer sex!" That's a queer sex!" he repeated. "Let's get out of town tonight. We'll take in the Kentucky Derby. That's a great idea, old chap. I'm not drinking and this so-called life, I'd like to get away from it. I'll have my good digestion until my good digestion." He hesitated. "What do you want to do with my stock in Kentucky? Why couldn't you sell it this morning? It's a great day!" His eyes brightened.

... (The text continues with the story of the mountaineer and the girl, with several paragraphs of dialogue and narrative.) ...

Even Baby Has Thumbs Up

Mrs. Winston Churchill (right), wife of the British prime minister, is amused at the now-familiar thumbs-up gesture accidentally made by this tot at the opening of a new hotel in London. The shelter is for lonely husbands whose wives have been evacuated from danger zones.

The only daughter of a well-established family, like so many Southerners, her people had been impoverished since the Civil War. Her father's sister, a devoted old maid, completed the household. Giving her horse to a darky, the girl—a serious expression on her lovely face—entered the house through the kitchen. Without her usual cheery greeting to the old mammy, she walked past her and out to the porch.

Through the doorway, the negro saw Virginia coming to a halt in front of a swinging birdcage, staring up at it. Lost in her dreams, Virginia saw two birds on the perch instead of one. A smile crept over her features. Was

Rev. Gay Chambers Elected Director Of Regional BTU

Rev. Guy Chambers, of Canton, was elected director of the Baptist Training Union of Buncombe, Carolina, French Broad, Mitchell, Transylvania, Yancey, Haywood, and Newfound associations in West

North Carolina at a two-day meeting which was held in Canton on Friday and Saturday. Others elected to serve with the Rev. Mr. Chambers include: vice director, Miss Nancy Barton, of Hendersonville, secretary, Miss Mae Holtzclaw, of Canton, and pastor-advisor, the Rev. William Lynch, of Mars Hill.
