THE FIRST KIND WORD

Postal Clerk: "Three cents. It's first class matter."
Poet: "Oh, thank you, sir. Thank you very much."

EXERCISE

The blacksmith's sweetheart entered the forge just as he paused to wipe the perspiration from his face.
"Shall we go to the pictures tonight, Jake?"
"Nay, lass," he replied. "I'm playing checkers at the club."
She stamped her foot.
"I'm tired of you and your silly old checkers!"
"Come, come," pleaded the blacksmith, picking up the heavy hammer, "a man must get some exercise sometimes."—Grit.

Johnson: "What gives Parker that strained look—business worries?"
Jones: "No, he picked it up trying to listen to his wife and the radio at the same time."—Consolidated.

THE AVERAGE MOTORIST

Service station man: "How much gasoline does the tank in your car hold?"
Autoist: "I don't know. I've never had enough money to get it filled yet."—Atlanta Two Bells.

PATRIOTIC GESTURE

"So you traded in your old car, at last," said the pessimist.
"Yes," said the optimist, "I'm not one to hold back on our defense program when the government needs iron."

DEFINITE REBUKE

"I asked if I could see her home."
"And what did she say?"
She said she'd send me a photo of it."—Montreal Star.

IN REVERSE

"Why didn't you enjoy your drive to Florida?"
"Well, we had to follow the main highway—all the detours were being repaired."

PLEASE NO

"I read there's to be a shortage of fruit this year."
"Yeah? Well, I hope they won't get to singing about it like they did when we had that shortage of bananas a few years ago!"

WANTS IT PROVED

Mose was in trouble again, and the sheriff asked him if he were guilty or not guilty.
"Guilty, suh, I think," replied Moose, "but I'd better be tried to make sure of it."
