"The Haywood club members were all good campers and conducted themselves in a ladylike and gentlemanlike manner," said an official of the camp.

Haywood Farmers Asked To Study New Legislation

The farmers of Haywood county will share with those throughout the state and the nation in the $25,000,000 parity loan legislation recently passed in Congress, according to an announcement by state authorities.

The North Carolina Farm Bureau in co-operation with the American Farm Bureau sponsored the legislation which will benefit the farmers growing tobacco, cotton, peanuts, and wheat.

A meeting, one of four district conferences to be held in the state, will take place at the Buncombe county court house in Asheville, Tuesday, July 22nd, according to the county farm agents, for the purpose of explaining the benefits each farmer will receive from this new legislation.

Plans will also be inaugurated for an organized movement throughout the state to get temporary parity legislation made permanent and to start a campaign for parity loan benefits to producers of non-basic crops like truck produce and vegetables.

The farm bureau is bringing to the state some of the outstanding agricultural leaders in the United States for the discussions. The list includes J. B. Hutton, president of the Commodity Credit Corporation and Walter Randolph, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau.

1940 Burley Crop In Haywood Sold For $131,571.01

The Haywood county farmers received a total of $131,571.01 for the burley tobacco grown on farms last year, according to figures recently compiled in the county farm agent's office.

The total acreage was 694.01 acres, with 709,962 pounds sold on the market. The crop would have been larger but was damaged in certain sections of the county by storms and high winds.

It is estimated that the crop this year will be in the neighborhood of that last year. It would have exceeded it had not the drought in the early season damaged to some extent the plantings.

The first newspaper was established in the state in 1749 at New Bern and was called The North Carolina Gazette.
