Letters To The Editor

PROUD OF HAYWOOD

Editor The Mountaineer:—

This is a remarkable thing that you record in your issue of July 24th—that out of approximately six hundred young men from Haywood now serving our country in the army, navy, marine corps. ONLY EIGHT ARE DRAFTEES. And these come up only in the last call. This equals Haywood's record in the World War.

This makes one proud to be a Haywood man, a Tarheel, and an American. The old Latins said: "Montani semper liberi"—Mountaineers are always free men. If any man thinks that patriotism is dead, let him look to old Haywood county and her six hundred mountaineer men. I have read the names of these six hundred, practically every one a good old-American name of Anglo-Saxon origin. I recognize scores of Haywood names that I have known all my life.

In these dreadful days of foreboding, doubt and danger—the greatest since the fall of the Roman Empire—we are told that the democracies are doomed and that only autocracies can survive. We read and hear that government by the people is in the discard and that intellectual if not physical slavery is the fate awaiting those who fall under Nazi rule. Yet here are six hundred volunteers from Haywood who give this doctrine the lie, who believe in Democracy and are willing to fight for it. They recall another six hundred written about in history.

You state that Haywood's record for volunteers is equalled by Jarvis Palmer, W. T. Rainer, John Howell, M. L. Messer, N. W. Carver, L. M. Leatherwood, John B. Campbell, L. W. Hall, Kenneth Lowe, J. M. Allison, C. A. Campbell, M. H. Caldwell, D. J. Boyd, Rred Campbell, J. E. Ferguson, Joe Gill, W. D. Ketner.

Called California's Prettiest

Cousin Of Morton Rabhan Largest Draftee In Army

America's largest draftee, according to Fort McPherson authorities near Atlanta is Archie Rabhan, of Savannah, who put the reception center in quite a quandary a few weeks ago when he asked for shoes size 16-EE, trousers 46 inches in the waist and a shirt 20.

The 292 pound selectee, is a cousin of Morton Rabhan, of Waynesville. He is 25 years old and is six feet, four inches tall. He is still without army shoes, though part of his army uniform has arrived. Until he is completely outfitted he will work in the reception center's stock room issuing uniforms to selectees who wear shoes below size 16-EE.

Governor Broughton Buys First Game License

those of Brunswick and Lee counties. Possibly they can be equalled in other southern states. But such is far from the situation up here in this polyglot cosmopolitan complex of the peoples and ideologies. The comparison of our volunteers at home and the draftees up here leads to conclusions that are startling and possibly sometimes not fair.

But our soldiers come of old-American stock, are made of A-1 stuff, and are ready to fight for country, for freedom, for security. Indeed, some of these young men are sons of those who volunteered in the first World War. They are following in their father's footsteps, and I am but one of many who are most inordinately proud of them. E. W. GUDGER, New York.

son graduated from Western Carolina Teachers College this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hayes and baby, of Spartanburg, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Eaverson.

We are looking forward to a new school house in Saunook. Hope we are not to be disappointed.

We sure do enjoy reading Bobby Sloan's letters from Fort Jackson, as we are all very much interested in all our army and navy boys all over the good old U. S. A.

For the first time in several years, a demonstration of hypnotism will be given in Waynesville.

Acclaimed to be one of the most sensational and interesting shows ever put on in many towns in this state, according to press accounts, the nationally famous Kirma, master of hypnotism, will give a performance starting at eight o'clock Friday night, in the show window of Garrett Furniture Store, on Main street.

Kirma will begin his show with an attempt to hypnotize a beautiful young lady, and if successful, she will be placed on a Kingsdown mattress in the show window, in full view of the public for 24 hours.

Besides hypnotizing the young lady, Kirma will then take a group, and while under the influence of his mystic powers, will get them to perform and act that will thrill and amuse the large throngs that are always attracted to his free shows.

Kirma promises to demonstrate the different stages of hypnotism on local people on the improvised stage which will be built in the store window.

The show is free, with no obligations whatever for attending and joining in the fun. Kirma explained yesterday that only those who volunteered would be hypnotized.

Kirma's over-sized scrap-book shows that he has mystified thousands in all parts of the nation. As many as 10,000 have attended a single performance.

The first show starts Friday night at eight o'clock, and then again on Saturday afternoon at four he will again appear in the window and continue to hypnotize people, continuing the show until he wakes his subjects which he "put to sleep" on Friday night.

During the performance, Kirma will give away a $39.50 mattress. Registration can be made at the store any time.

We only get one shot at life, so we should make every day count.
