a cow and third in 2-year-old heifer class.

Albert Abel won second place on the 1-year-old bull, third place for a pair of yearlings, and third and fourth places for yearling heifers, and second for 2-year-old female.

Raymond Caldwell won 3rd place in the heavyweight 4-H class, Max James 4th place.

Calvin Francis won first in the lightweight, Charles Powell, fourth and T. J. Powell 8th place, Raymond Caldwell 10th.

Haywood fat calves won second place as a county group.

County Agent Corpening said the livestock exhibits at the fair were the best ever.

Haywood is showing more interest than usual in the State Fair which opened Tuesday in Raleigh, and will continue through Saturday night.

Two carloads of cattle were shipped from here last Friday. The cars had 7 baby heaves and 40 breeding cattle, of Aberdeen-Angus, Short Horn, Guernsey and Herefords. This was the first time in many years that Guernseys have been shown from Haywood at the State Fair.

Haywood will have two judging teams in the annual state contests Friday. Wayne Stamey, Way Abel and Calvin Francis will judge livestock, while Max James, Hershell and Jonathan Caldwell and T. J. Powell will judge poultry.

Among those from here who are attending the fair are: Wayne Corpening, Albert Abel, Jarvis Palmer, Way Abel, John Rietzel, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Francis, Lide Parton, Wayne Stamey, Wallace Ward, Ennis Boyd, Jarvis Caldwell, Hershell Caldwell, and Jonathan Caldwell.

Max James, T. J. Powell, Zimmary Reece, Louise Reece, whose calf won grand champion at the Haywood Livestock Show, Will Clark, Mrs. Joe Gill, C. N. Allen, Joe Davis, and Decauter Justice.

Florida Physician Former Haywood County Resident on Visit Here

ville for treatment where she was reported last night to be resting as well as could be expected.

The Rev. Moores, who received a bad chest injury and has been quite sick, is reported to be holding his own. His daughter, Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, suffered lacerations and bruises. Her husband, driver of the car, also received bruises and lacerations.

All three were taken to the Haywood County Hospital for treatment, where the Rev. Moores is still a patient, but the other two have been discharged.

Both bones were broken in Coalsen's right forearm and he suffered other minor injuries. Jim Sutton, who was riding in the car with Coalsen at the time, was the only one who escaped without injury.

The officers investigating the accident stated Coalsen tried to cross the highway in front of the Mitchell car, Coalsen saying that the sun blinded him to such an extent that he did not see the approaching car.

It was estimated that the damages to both cars would total something over $600.

A preliminary hearing will be held, pending the condition of the injured persons.

Beaverdam Club Sees And Hears Lot At Meeting

Mrs. Sandy McCracken was hostess to the Beaverdam Home Demonstration Club on Tuesday, October 7. The home was attractively decorated with fall flowers.

The nineteen members present enjoyed the demonstration which was given by Miss Mary Margaret Smith. Using a well-made ready-made dress, she pointed out the features which made it a good buy. She also stressed ways and means of bringing the wardrobe up to date.

Work of the club was discussed, covering reports, award of merit, annual reports. Of interest was an article by one of the members on how to keep sweet potatoes during the winter.

During the social hour games were played and refreshments served.

All the women especially enjoyed looking over the recently remodeled kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. McCracken. Their modern kitchen has white walls, an electric range, latest type electrical lighting fixtures, plenty of built-in cabinets, hot and cold water and spacious working surfaces. A what-not shelf, with touches of red and black caught the eye of the women.

The club will meet with Mrs. Goble McCracken for the annual all-day November and December meeting, which will be held in December.

Tuberculosis Xmas Seal Sale Set For $165

The North Carolina Tuberculosis Association has set a Christmas Seal sale goal for 1941 of $165. The goal set by state organization for the Waynesville area is according to Mrs. Frank Ferguson, local chairman of the sale campaign.

The state association has goals set for the counties, number of reasons, including: wealth of the section; population; past sales; defense program; increased population; or not county has widespread tuberculosis association.

This year the Christmas seal sale is a picture of Christmas far-off place. It is a happy in spite of the dark and dreary Looking at the cheerful windows one can imagine Christmas warmth and joy in the little house. There are prints in the snow showing someone has been going about that all is well. At dominating the whole dark scene is a lighthouse. Because it one feels that all is safe.

Mrs. Ferguson will announce committees serving under the seal sale, as in the past, to be made through the school system.

Seventy-five per cent of the money derived from the sale is kept for local work among tubercular suspects and underserved children.
