chairmen appointed in each township in are area comprising the Haywood chapter. Each township chairman will in turn appoint their committee.

The definite campaign of soliciting funds will not get underway before the first of the year, but all organization of working groups will be perfected during the coming week.

In his proclamation President Roosevelt pointed out that for more than sixty years the American Red Cross has played a vital role in binding up the wounds of the injured, in sheltering, feeding and clothing the homeless, in succoring the distressed, in rebuilding broken lives, and in rehabilitating the victims of catastrophes of nature and war.

12 Pet Drivers See Movies On Safe Driving

Twelve drivers of Pet Dairy Products Company here attended a dinner meeting at the LeFaine Hotel Wednesday night, and saw movies shown by Mr. Tomlinson, of the safety division of the State Highway Department.

The drivers for the Pet firm had three night sessions on safe driving, all conducted by Mr. Tomlinson. The meeting Wednesday night was presided over by R. B. Davenport, manager of the local plant.

Bailey Chosen To Head Canton Defense Group

Mayor J. T. Bailey was unanimously elected general chairman of Canton's civilian defense council at an organization meeting held in the Canton city hall Tuesday night.

C. A. Stone, plant engineer of the Canton division of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company, was unanimously chosen assistant general chairman of the defense set-up.

E. M. Geier, cashier of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company, was chosen chief clerk to the new defense organization, while W. Luther Snyder was named deputy clerk.

Comfortable Hens Produce Better

When the cold winds of winter blow, that's the time to thing of the comfort of the farm poultry flock, says C. F. Parrish, poultryman of the N. C. State College Extension Service.

A comfortable house, free from drafts, will help to keep the birds free from common winter ailments and aid them in producing a maximum number of eggs.

Then, too, each bird should have at least 3 1/2 to 4 square feet of floor space. If the flock is crowded, additional space should be provided or the number culled down to a point where the birds may be comfortable in present quarters.

Water that has been heated to knock the chill off, or fresh from the well early each morning, will do much to prevent a cold snap from causing a sharp drop in egg production. For less trouble, automatic electric or oil heated warmers should be installed.

In other suggestions for December to North Carolina poultrymen, Parrish said the feeding of one pound of alfalfa leaf meal per 100 birds will be a satisfactory substitute for green feed if the dry fall prevented the sowing of a grazing crop.

If the flock is properly housed and cared for and not more than 30 or 40 eggs per 100 hens are received daily, then there may be something wrong with the health or breeding of the birds, Parrish said.

Although it is too late to change the laying flock this year, the poultryman should give careful thought to the kind of breeding males he uses next year, or the sources from which he purchases his baby chicks, the State College specialist advised.
