TRSDAY, MARCH 5, 1942

THE WAYNESVILLE MOUNTAINEER

Winant Visits U.S. Troops Hunting the Axis Undersea Raider Wants to Enlist—City Says No!

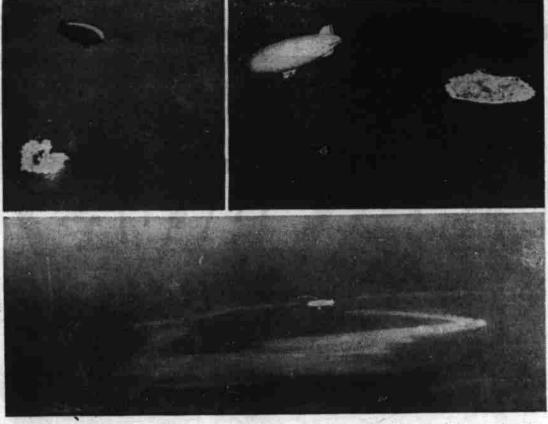

C. P. Radiophoto

BANGKO

hn G. Winant (left), U. S. ambassador to England, visits American pops stationed in North Ireland and chats with some of the men ound a small stove in one of the troops' huts. With the ambassador e Lieut. Robert Lande, of New York, Sergt. S. Hardin, of Tatum, Texas, and Pvt. D. Ogawa, of New York.

The Road to India

Patroling Atlantic coastal waters, a Navy blimp discovers an oil slick, usual sign of a damaged submarine. Top, left, the blimp drops a bomb at the head of the trail. Top, right, the blimp returns and hits the same spot with a second bomb. Bottom, the blimp circles the huge oil slick trying to determine results. (Central Press)

A Very Brave Little Girl

'It's Your Lifeline'

C. P. Phonephote

Little Janet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Johnson of London, who sur-vived the torpedo sinking of the Canadian ship Lady Hawkins, is shown peacefully asleep on board the rescue ship Coamo, upon arrival at San Juan, Puerto Rico. Two hundred and fifty lives were lost. Little Janet and seventy others were saved. (Central Press)

Interviewed during a short visit to New York, Owen Lattimore, per-sonal American adviser to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, declares the Burma Road is more America's lifeline than China's. The noted Far Eastern expert returned from his Chungking post by air. (Central Press)

Envoy to Russia

President Roosevelt appointed Ad-miral William H. Standley, 70, for-mer Chief of Naval Operations and mer Chier of Navai Operations and now retired, as Ambassador to Rus-sia. He'll succeed Laurence Stein-hardt, who has been appointed Am-bassador to Turkey. (Central Press)

Frederick Donnatelli, of Revere, Mass., shown with his wife and four children, wanted to enlist in the army so badly he wrote President Roosevelt about it. The city's welfare commissioner has fought the enlistment on grounds the family would become dependents of the city if he succeeds. Mrs. Donnatelli and the draft board have signed waivers. "Central Press)

Death Agony of a Merchantman

This spectacular photo shows an unidentified victim of the deadly U-boat menace in the Atlantic. The still-smoking British merchant ship rears skyward a few seconds before plunging beneath the choppy waters. Her crew struggles in the water awaiting rescue craft. (Central Press)

Page 11

Attending the Gay Nepa festival in the Philippines a few days before the Japanese invasion is Mrs. Doug-las MacArthur, wife of the com-mander in chief of the Philippine forces. At last report, Mrs. Mac-Arthur was still with her husband and their son on Luzon. (Central Press)

Another Victim of Royal Air Force Accuracy

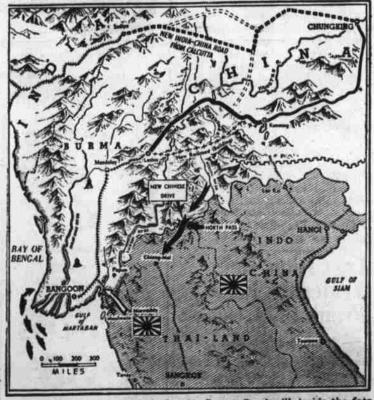

ways at Kearny, N. J., in a double launching, to become the latest additions to Uncle Sam's growing fleet. The same day, there was also a twin launching of destroyers in Boston.

The Battle for the Burma Road

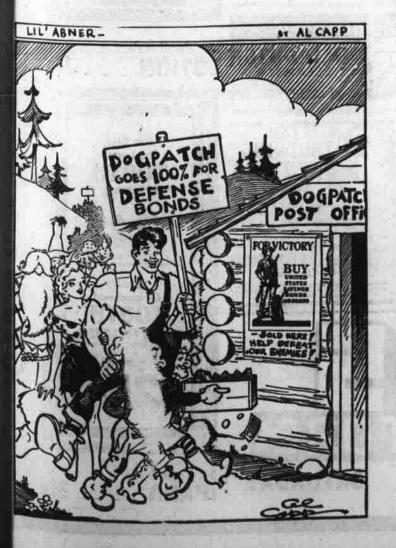

Nearing a climax, the battle for the Burma Road will decide the fate of China's chief supply line, with British troops fighting desperately to hold positions on the western shores of the Bilin River. The Japs all-out air, land and sea assault aimed at capture of Rangoon seems stalled but an enemy invasion fleet is reported off the Burmese coast in an ap-parent move to encircle Rangoon and out-flank defenders. In event of the fall of Rangoon, the United Nations plan to re-route supplies to China vis Calcutta over new road being built, as shown on map. Heavy black arrow indicates where Chinese are exerting pressure.

Defeat of a new Jap attempt to cross Salween River enhance Britain's chances of holding Burma. Map shows routes to mountain barriers hat divide Burma from Thailand, penetration of which may prove one of the decisive factors in Pacific struggle. If the Japanese cut cross, they can shut off Burma Road and win bases for drive on India. (Central Press)

VICTORIA P

of

BENGAL

The destroyers Lansdowne (left) and Duncan (right) slide down the