TIRE MADE ATLANTA HOME GOES TO WAR

There is another thing you cannot do. You cannot run a car without tires.

But an Atlanta man has revised that one, too.

Seems that Agnew Field built his home back in the days when old tires were cheap. So he made staircases, flower beds, fences and all sorts of things out of used tires. As for Field:

He has come to the conclusion he not only cannot run a car without tires. He cannot run his home without them either.
