

Farmers Are Urged To Pay Off Debts

The importance of avoiding unnecessary hardships such as were experienced by farmers and others during and following the first world war, is being stressed by President Roosevelt.

The important safeguard, the president suggests, is to begin paying off debts, mortgages, and other obligations. The Farm Credit Administration has been urging farmers to use their increased income to pay such surplus funds as they have on hand to reduce their long-term indebtedness.

Those who take this advice, according to Mr. Roosevelt, will be contributing in a real way to the accomplishment of three important objectives. First, by making such payments they will reduce farm mortgage debts which might otherwise be burdensome in the readjustment period after the war.

Second, use of increased purchasing power to pay debts instead of buying such things as everyone reasonably can do without during the war will help keep the prices of such things from rising. Farmers, like all other citizens of the nation, fear inflation.

Third, repayments to creditors will enable them to buy more war bonds, thereby contributing materially to the war effort.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

Cook-Spivey Wedding Was Solemnized Saturday

Miss Mabel Cook, of San Antonio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Cook, of Pleasanton, Texas, became the bride of Captain Alver Kenneth Spivey, of Sloan Field, Midland, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Spivey, of Waynesville, on Saturday evening the first of August at eight thirty o'clock.

The lovely ceremony took place in the chapel of the First Baptist church with Dr. Charles Heimseith, of Evansville, Indiana, officiating.

Mrs. Troy Campbell played at the piano as the guests assembled. The chapel was beautifully decorated with a large arrangement of white gladioli in front of the pulpit, flanked with standing candelabra with many white tapers.

The best man for Capt. Spivey was Capt. Ralph E. Hanson, of Sloan Field.

The bride was lovely in a pure white summer wedding gown of cross-drawn shadow organdie, fashioned with deep V neckline with a wide collar of tucked and hand-embroidered dotted organdie to match the collar. The basque was tight-fitting and pointed in front and to it was gathered the full skirt over taffeta which was floor length all around.

She wore a beautiful informal bridal head-dress of many layers of flounced bridal illusion which fell just to shoulder length. The veil fell from a bridal cap of the white illusion which was draped with loops of ice-blue bridal illusion and which was topped by a fluffy white pompadour flower. She carried a bridal bouquet of white gladioli, centered with a gardenia and interspersed with blue delphinium. She wore a heart-shaped locket of pearl adorned with golden wings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Immediately after the wedding, Captain and Mrs. Spivey left for a short trip. For traveling, Mrs. Spivey wore a cocoa brown mesh suit, the jacket of which was fashioned with lapels, cuffed short sleeves and gold buttons. The jacket topped a simply cut skirt. She wore a white crocheted postilion hat with rolled brim and crocheted pom pom. Her accessories were brown and her gloves were white. She wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Capt. and Mrs. Spivey will be at home in Odessa, Texas, near Midland where Capt. Spivey is stationed at Sloan Field.

It is to twelve at an early date. Dr. J. L. Reeves and Dr. V. H. Duckett are head of the department.
