

Haywood Will Suspend Business

The strong urge for more scrap came, he went down, and under rocks and logs dug out the cable and hauled it to a school scrap pile.

One large contribution to the scrap pile of Waynesville was made when the officials of the Standard Oil Company donated the tanks and other salvage at their bulk plant near the railroad tracks, which was the scene of the disastrous fire in July. It was estimated that when the tanks and other equipment which had been left on the grounds were weighed they would total more than 40,000 pounds.

The Bethel district school have had one of the best organized scrap campaigns conducted in the county. Every section of the territory was covered in a regular planned drive that left no spot untouched by the energetic students, who worked in squads. The same plan was used in the Waynesville high school districts, also with with amazing results.

On Wednesday every school in the county will be organized in the same manner, it was learned from Jack Messer, county superintendent of education, who is high in his praise of the co-operation of the students in the schools throughout the county.

A number of articles that people have been keeping for years, many past the fatal 7 year mark, have been turned into the scrap piles. In one case reported it was a nickel percolator, with a lost top, which the owner had been hoping to replace, but felt that the present emergency needed the metal more than she needed the extra percolator.

In some cases only a half holiday will be taken by the schools on Wednesday, as during the past week half holidays have been given, and the territory in their school area has undergone a dry cleaning coverage.

Leaders of the drive said late yesterday afternoon that if the adults of the county will work during the next two days as the students have since the drive started, there will not be one scrap of scrap left in Haywood county by dark on Wednesday.

Students in all the schools of the county will attend school as usual. Upon arrival they will be divided into squads and will go out under direction of the teachers into every vicinity in their school area.

They will assist families in homes where scrap has not been collected and see that it is carried to a main highway where a truck will be passing.

In some of the schools where the surrounding area has been worked by organized groups, the students will only be given a half holiday.

Those who have scrap may dispose of it in three ways: they may call a school in their community and donate it to them; they may call the Waynesville Coal yard and dispose of it to the junk dealers and contribute it to some worthy cause, or they may call 17 for a truck to haul it away, and also state what cause they wish the proceeds to be paid.

District Farm Transportation Groups Meet Here

Will Rogers, of Raleigh, acting executive secretary of the State AAA committee, was the principal speaker at the district meeting of the farm transportation committees of the counties from Buncombe to Cherokee.

T. Weaver Cathey, of this county, state AAA committeeman, presided. Around thirty-five members of the various county committees were present.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the set up for the trucks which goes into effect on November 15th. All truck owners must have a certificate of war necessity to operate a truck.

Two main points were brought out by the speaker; first, that the committee members must assist all farm truck owners in their areas in filling out their applications for the certificate of war necessity; second, to coordinate transportation programs of their respective counties.

The farm transportation committees were appointed in each county by the local U. S. D. A. war board shortly after war was declared. They include the heads of the agencies under the U. S. department of agriculture in a county constituted board.

National USO Quota Raised, But County Lacks $30

The quota for Haywood county in the USO drive as set by national headquarters of $2,000 has been reached, it was learned from Charles E. Ray, Jr., county chairman. In addition to the $2,000 goal set by the national organization the county committee added a quota of $200 which was to provide USO facilities in the county. This local goal has not been met. Toward the amount the sum of $177.43 has to date been collected, according to Mr. Ray, making the total $2,177.43 contributed by the people of the county toward the welfare of approximately 2,000 Haywood county men now in the armed forces. Credit for the larger part of the funds should go to the industries in the county, according to Mr. Ray. The employees of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company, of Canton, the A. C. Lawrence Leather Company, of Hazelwood, the Unagusta Manufacturing Company, of Hazelwood, and similar groups were among the largest contributors. Others making contributions included the Salvation Army, of Haywood county, St. John's Catholic school, the Woman's Club of Waynesville, and the Gradale Sorority and the Phalanx Club of Canton. A woman who has no relatives in the service made the largest single contribution. One hundred dollars was contributed by Camp Junaluska for Girls, realized from a variety benefit show. This was through the courtesy of Miss Ethel McCoy and her associates. Delsie Love headed a committee that raised $30 among the colored people. The Kirkpatrick band gave a program of native music. A spontaneous movement at a square dance resulted in a $15 contribution by the dancers. The Southwestern orchestra of Canton gave their services for a benefit dance. Under the leadership of Captain Cecil Brown at a church gathering in the county a collection was made of $52 by the Salvation Army. The committee for Haywood county is composed of the following: Charlie Ray, general chairman, Lee McElrath, associate chairman, of Canton; Rev. R. E. McBlain, treasurer (who has recently moved away); Miss Theo Jentz, Canton; Adjutant Cecil Brown, Salvation Army; Father Mahoney, G. C. Suttles, YMCA, Canton; Bob Gibson, E. C. Wagenfeld and Aaron Prevost, Hazelwood; Jack Messer, Mrs. Chas. G. Miller, Capt. Thelma Colton, and A. B. Robinson and Rev. J. B. Tabor, Canton. The committee will continue function during the year with respect to any USO affairs that may come up. The executive committee is composed of Charlie Ray, Lee McElrath, Miss Theo Jentz, Mrs. Chas. J. Miller, and E. Wagenfeld. The YMCA will respect to any USO affairs that Miss Nanette Jones, secretary of the Waynesville Chamber of Commerce, will represent the organization here.
