Who wants an old-fashioned bed, when some of our fighting men at the front don't even have a bed. So here, one patriotic youngster saws off the excess bed and look —Sure it looks better, and I'll bet a week's allowance we can sleep better now, since we have done our part in giving Uncle Sam the old posts for scrap.

State College Hints

By Ruth Current, State Home Demonstration Agent N. C. State College.

Here are four first-aid rules for saving vitamins in food: (1) Don't crush or bruise; (2) don't soak; (3) keep cold until ready to cook or eat; and (4) use quickly when prepared.

Vitamin C gets away faster from foods peeled or cut, so make raw salad or slaw as a last-minute job. Cook quickly whenever you can. Put vegetables into boiling water, and bring the water back to boiling point fast. Cook vegetables until just tender—but no longer. Stir vegetables only when you must. If you stir you mix air into the food and that destroys some of the vitamins. Do not add soda when you cook green vegetables. The soda destroys thiamine and vitamin C.

We must prevent farm fires and here's how to check your hazards. Let every member of the family help make an inspection and answer these questions: Can chimneys be examined from the attic? Are chimneys free from cracks and loose bricks?

Are bird nests or eaves removed from roofs and around eaves regularly? Do all wood and coal stoves stand on a metal floor-covering extending at least 18 inches in front of the stove door? When stovepipes rust out, are they replaced with safe pipes? Is the oil stove kept clean and properly adjusted? Do you use a metal container for taking out hot ashes?

Do you keep closets, attics, and storerooms clean and free from rubbish and papers which would feed a fire? Are oily mops, dust and polish rags kept in metal containers to prevent spontaneous fires.

Miss Billie Carver, daughter of Mrs. Stella Carver, returned on Monday to Newport News, after spending ten days here with her mother at her home on the Dellwood road.

Many states which are not considered as "forest state," nevertheless include large areas of forests. In Ohio, for example, it is estimated there are more than 3,000,000 acres of trees growing on general farms.

TIMELY—Farm Questions and Answers

Question: Is it possible to remove fish odors from wooden kegs?
Answer: Fish odors are exceedingly difficult to remove from wood, especially if the fish brine has stood in the keg for any great length of time. There is no absolutely positive way of removal, but one of the most successful methods is to steam the keg, then wash it with a fairly strong B-X solution. After the keg has dried thoroughly, recoat the inner surface with melted paraffin. Even with this treatment, it is not always possible to remove the odor.

Question: How much salt should be used in curing pork?
Answer: E. V. Vestal, animal husbandry extension specialist, says it was once a common belief that 50 pounds of salt were necessary for curing a 250-pound hog. Now it is realized there is no need to waste that much salt, and, in addition, the meat will cure out too salty for good eating. Last year, Vestal said, he used 7 pounds of salt, 2 pounds of brown sugar, and 2 ounces of saltpeter per 100 pounds of pork and got excellent cured meat.

Robert Dean Lee Well known Citizen Claimed By Death

Funeral services were conducted at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Luther Lee on Allen's Creek for her son, Robert Dean Lee, 79, who died at 5:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon, after an extended illness.

Mr. Lee is a native of the Cranberry Creek section of the county. He would have been eighty-one old next month. Prior to his retirement he was connected with the freight division of the Southern Railway here.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Luther L. Allen; Mrs. S. Rhodes, of Jacksonville; Mrs. O. C. Suttles and Mrs. Reeves, both of Asheville; one half brother, James Lee Lake Junaluska; 17 grandchildren including Mrs. Glenn McHardy, with whom he has lived during the past two years, and great grandchildren.

And the best and the worst of it is that neither is most to blame. If you have forgotten your duty, and I have forgotten your duty.

My country is the world and religion is to do good.—T. Paine.
