

Letters To Santa Claus

Mt. Sterling
Dear Santa Claus:
I would like to have a French harp and some candy, some oranges and tangerines and a watch and some gloves. And some apples and a pair of boots and that will be all for this time.
Your friend,
Ralph White.

Dear Santa:
It is Christmas time now and I would like to have candy and oranges. And a lot of other stuff for Christmas. It is cold here. They are hauling saw dust from the saw mill. The creek is up and it is very cold.
Your friend,
Lewis Lackey.

Dear Santa Claus:
I am 8 years old and in the third grade. I want a harmonica and a pair of skates and I would like to have a wagon, candy, oranges and nuts.
I also have a little brother and some sisters, please don't forget them.
I like my teacher and please remember her.
Lots of love,
Harold Hannah.

But even if Christmas came once a month, we would hardly find words with which to thank you for your generous support.

And now let us wish you all a very Merry Christmas in 1942.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expectorate mucus, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Highest Award for Navy Hero

A citation by President Roosevelt is read by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the U. S. Fleet, who decorated Comm. Bruce McCandless (left), 31, of Long Beach, Calif., with the Congressional Medal of Honor on the deck of the battered cruiser San Francisco, on the West Coast. McCandless is the officer who, when his superiors were killed, took command of the flagship and brought it through victoriously in the naval battle north of Guadalcanal on Nov. 13. The cruiser sank a Jap battleship, cruiser and destroyer. McCandless was wounded. This is an official Navy photo. (Central Press)
