

Joe Rose Explains Why Public Must Walk and Not Ride

It would be legal to attend sports events, bridge games, book club meetings and any other social affairs. Certainly, these activities should be continued, but the participants must either walk, use the bus or find some other way besides their cars to get there, Mr. Rose explained.

"Dining at hotels, clubs, restaurants also is out—unless you can get there some other way than by auto. Attendance at movies, visits to bowling alleys, billiard parlors, dances and all other social activities also are definitely prohibited—if cars are used for such purposes. Hunting also is under the ban.

"States along the Eastern Seaboard are consuming around 40,000 more barrels of oil a day than is being brought into the area. If this sort of thing goes on, it probably won't be long before we'll be having gasless days or even weeks. We can prevent that situation from developing if the people will cooperate one hundred per cent in eliminating all except essential driving," Mr. Rose said.

vision of the manual, Mr. Hammond, chairman; on schools and colleges, with a special report on Kings College, by Dr. Dedinger; foreign missions, the Rev. Dr. H. L. Paisley, of Murphy; stewardship, the Rev. T. A. Painter, of Swannanoa; evangelism, Mr. Williamson; presbytery records, Mr. Hammond; commission on the minister and his work, Mr. Painter.

A majority of the ministers and the elders stayed over for the night session which was devoted to foreign missions. The Rev. Allen Craig, for many years secretary-treasurer of the mission work of the Southern Presbyterian church in Luebo, Belgian Congo, Africa, discussed the encouraging features of mission work in the Belgian Congo.

He pictured the Belgian Congo as a great evangelistic field for the church and expressed the belief that, while mission work had been interrupted in many parts of the world by the war, it can be carried on in the Belgian Congo with little interruption for years to come.

The daily oil-carrying capacity of the Texas-Illinois pipeline, now under construction, will equal the capacity of 1,430 average tank cars.
