

A Week Of The War

WAR BUDGET

The President's budget message to Congress forecast federal expenditures of $108 billion in the fiscal year 1944 and called for $16 billion in new collections by taxation, savings or both. Proposed war costs for 1944 were set at $100 billion. War expenditures for 1942, released by the OWI, totaled more than $52 billion—3.8 times the amount spent in 1941—but at the end of the year, they were running at an annual rate of about $10 billion.

Emphasizing that methods of taxation should be determined by Congress, the President asked Congress to put taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis, simplify the tax system, and effect certain reforms in the tax structure. Specifically, these reforms would include changes in the depletion-of-reserves provision, extension to all income of the present limitation of $25,000 net on earned income, removal of the tax exemption from issues of securities, and curbing the advantages of joint income returns still allowed married couples in some states.

falls due in March, 1944. The methods developed for administering the withholding provisions were determined upon as the most equitable for all taxpayers affected, under the terms of the statute imposing the tax.

WOMEN IN WAR

This week, WMC Chairman McNutt, announcing that 4 million women are now working in war plants, predicted that in a very short time one out of every four workers in American war industries will be a woman. To meet 1943 war production goals, the number of women workers must increase, until by the end of the year, 6 million women will be engaged in war production work.

An intensive campaign is to be launched this month by the Red Cross Nursing Service, to recruit 36,000 graduate registered nurses for the army and navy nurse corps, 100,000 Red Cross nurses aides to assist professional nurses in civilian and government hospitals, and one million students in Red Cross home nursing classes, teaching teaching methods of protecting health and preventing illness in the home. Mr. McNutt, as director of defense health and welfare service, announced that if even minimum civilian and military needs of the nation are to be met, 65,000 young women must enter schools of nursing between June 30, 1943, and July 1, 1944.

AGRICULTURE AND WAR

Calling on farmers for unprecedented production in 1943, President Roosevelt said food already sent to the people of North Africa is saving the energies and the lives of American troops there. Food, he said, is a weapon in total war and the record crop produced last year by American farmers is a major victory of the United Nations.

Year-end estimates from the department of agriculture show 1942 output of livestock and livestock products (for sale and home consumption) up 12 per cent over 1941, crop production up nearly 14 per cent and total agriculture production up more than 12 per cent. But it is still likely that, due to unprecedented national income and rising government requirements, 1943 demand for farm products will rise well ahead of production. Attainment of the 1943 food goals would mean a 12

FDR Looks At His Xmas Present from the Army

Solemnly looking over a huge globe given to him by the army as a Christmas present, President Franklin D. Roosevelt fixes his gaze on Africa. Measuring 50 inches in diameter and weighing 800 pounds, the big globe occupies a prominent position in the President's office in the White House. This is a phonograph. (Central Press) per cent increase (over 1942) in livestock and livestock products, a 4 per cent increase in total agricultural production, and a total food production increase of about 6 per cent. If these goals are attained 1943 will be the seventh consecutive year to set a food production record.

After government requirements have been met, the volume of 1943 food production left for civilians is expected to be about the same as the 1935-39 average, which was adequate to feed the nation five years ago but is 10 per cent below 1942.

OFFENSIVE IN LIBYA

The Allies have opened an air offensive against Gen. Rommels retreating Afrika Korps in Libya. On Sunday, January 10, Allied planes bombed and machine gunned the German forces on the coast road between Misurata and Tripoli. On Tuesday, January 12, they made a lightning attack on Castel Benito, 10 miles south of Tripoli, raining bombs on the airfield, setting fire to buildings and destroying at least five enemy planes on the ground. . . . and on the way back, Flying Fortresses rushed into a 75-mile running battle with German Messerschmitt fighters and without loss brought down 14 of them.

On the 13th, Allied planes, in broad daylight, opened a heavy attack on German positions in the Madi Zemem Area and in a fierce air battle shot down four Messerschmitts and damaged others. The night before, bombers had attacked enemy landing grounds at Misurata (which is about 60-70 miles north of the Wadi Zemem defense line) and had followed up by bombing Axis-held roads and fields and machine gunning transport convoys all the way from Misurata to Tunisia, 270 miles to the west. Allied fighter and bomber planes, the next day, again carried the battle to Misurata and to Tripoli. Meanwhile, the activity in Tunisia continues with Allied air forces hitting hard against the Axis coastal towns and the French reporting gains in the southern sector.

On the New Guinea, U. S. and Australian troops continue to close slowly in on the tight little Japanese stronghold on Sannanda point. Hampered by torrential rains, Allied troops on Friday were still one and one-half miles from the main enemy positions. In a daring commando-type raid a picked force of jungle-trained Australians truck within one of Japan's biggest bases in northeast New Guinea and wiped out all the Japanese they found. The raid was at Mubo, 12 miles south of

JAPANESE PROPAGANDA

After the navy identified as the Hornet the aircraft carrier sunk in the battle of Santa Cruz Islands on October 26, 1942, Japanese propagandists attempted to exploit the American announcement by asserting that the Hornet brought the North American bombers for the air attack on Tokyo last April 18. A Tokyo broadcast recorded by the OWI declared that the sinking of the carrier was "revenge for the raid," adding that Japanese air units had been concentrating on this ship.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!
