Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Rosa Elizabeth Jordan, granddaughter of Mrs. G. C. Briggs, of Waynesville, and Edward Ballou Bagby, which took place in Danville, Va., on December the 23rd, at the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany.

The vows were spoken before an altar arranged in laurel, running cedar, ivy and other Christmas greens. Tall vases of white snapdragons and carnations were interspersed among the greenery with tall white tapers completing the background for the ceremony.

The Rev. Norvell E. Wicker, rector of the bride, pronounced the vows. The wedding music was rendered by Norvell E. Wicker, organist, and Richard Penn, violinist. Mrs. Norvell played "Calm As the Night" and "Tarris Angelicus," while Mr. Penn rendered "O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star."

The bride was given in marriage by Lt. Robert Jay Williams, of Annapolis, Md. She wore an informal model of white wool and rabbit's hair, with a low square neckline beaded in white and pink. She wore a matching hat and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls. She carried the ivory bound prayer book of her grandmother's which was showered with pale pink orchids and white lilac.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Beth Lea. Her full skirted dress was of pale blue wool. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, James I. Bagby, of Danville, Va. James I. Prichett, III, and Lee S. Booth served as ushers.

The bride is the daughter of Richard Dudley Jordan, of Norfolk, Va., and Memphis, Tenn., and the late Mrs. Helen Briggs Jordan, the latter of Waynesville. She has spent many summers here with her grandmother, Mrs. G. C. Briggs, at her home on East street.

The bride was educated at William and Mary College at Williamsburg, from which she was graduated with an A. B. degree. For the past two years she has been teaching in the city schools of Danville.

Mr. Bagby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lovelace Bagby of Danville, Va. He is a graduate of Washington and Lee University and is assistant trust officer of the First National Bank of Danville.
