The white of very light lines in your eyes shows. White reflects light while dark eyes absorb it. Dust shades frequently with a soft brush, as dust will repel the light.

Inside WASHINGTON

THE INDETERMINATE nature of our wartime officials' squabbles among themselves is a matter of common talk. They disagree in every direction, but it is almost never that one wins a clean-cut decision against the other fellow. Their quarrels go on indefinitely.

The outstanding conflicts are currently between civilian and military authorities.

If, in one of these controversies, some individual's job goes into the discard, it generally is a civilian's, for he is likelier to become discouraged and resign than an Army or Navy officer is to surrender his commission.

However, the row continues, under new civilian management.

There is a civilian, though, who "gets away with it."

That is Director Elmer Davis of the Office of War Information. What he says "goes."

This is a curious situation. I have known Elmer ever since World War No. 1's days. That was before he had graduated into the ranks of radio broadcasters.

He was just an ordinary scribe—a recorder of current events, not even an editorialist. He was a peppy chap, but not hard-boiled, particularly. Today he "sasses" folk even up to the White House.

And nobody argues with him.

The evident explanation is that he so clearly knows his business—publicity.

Executive administration and the Army and Navy eat out of his hand. They know that, should he quit, they could not find a 5 per cent substitute for him.

Elmer has staffs all over the world, in capitals with which we are on good terms, but I will wager he also has them, unsuspected, in Axis centers.

As to our own military establishment, he recently appointed Rear Admiral R. P. McCullough, as an expert on "confidential information."

Admiral McCullough's function is not to SUPPRESS information. Davis' mission is to DISSEMINATE it.

Byron Price is the censor. Davis is the advertiser. Byron is the husher. The two functions clash normally. They do not this time.

Admiral McCullough is a kind of a liaison officer between them, under Davis' direction.

You do not hear much about Byron, do you? You hear a lot about Elmer.

One of Elmer Davis' theses is that we need the death penalty for black marketing.

Davis' proposition is that unauthorized grub will feed us with fatal stuff if it is not suppressed at its source—that it is indirect murder.

The point is that there is no politics involved in the Davis reasoning. He is an unqualified newspaperman and radio broadcaster.

Catherine Jones Represents SPARS And WAVES Here

Miss Catherine Jones, secretary of the First National Bank of Waynesville, accepted appointment as WAVES and SPARS representative for the navy in Haywood county.

WAVES and SPARS booklets may be obtained from Miss Jones, as well as directions on the procedure for enlisting in either branch.

The navy recruiting station of Asheville is now accepting applications for enlistment in the WAVES and SPARS, the women's reserves of the navy and coast guard, respectively.

Enlistment in the WAVES and SPARS does not require any technical skill. Women will be trained in navy trade schools at several of the nation's leading colleges and universities.

The pay is the same as for the men of the navy and coast guard. Applicants must be between the ages of 20 and 36 for the enlisted branch and between 20 and 50 for the officer branch.

Two years of high school education is required, but four years is preferred.

Hazelwood Girl Exhibits Art Work At College

Miss Jane Grace, of Hazelwood, senior at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, who is considered one of the most prolific art students, is exhibiting her work this week in the Melver building.

Miss Grace is said to have done most with her lithographs. Her oils are exotic in color and are rather different in subject matter.

She is also exhibiting an etching, a clay model, a scratch-board and a water color.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Wife Preservers

For a frosting, beat one-half cup honey into an egg white with a dash of salt added and then frost cakes, cookies or gingerbread. This makes a soft frosting, so handle pastry carefully. You can sprinkle coconut, chopped nuts or sliced candy bars over the top if you wish a more fancy effect.
