Loose Shoe Stamps Worthless, Says OPA On Ruling

No. 1 is worthless if detached, they pointed out.
Where it is necessary for a merchant to refund a ration stamp for shoes, they must issue a special stamp known as "OPA-R-1708". The merchant dates this special stamp, and writes the number of the person's war ration book to whom it was issued. This special stamp has no value unless the customer presents his war ration book along with the special stamp when purchasing shoes.

PRELIMINARY CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION

To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:
Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the George Brown Supply Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated in the Town of Waynesville, County of Haywood, State of North Carolina (Joe E. Rose being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 22, Consolidated Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:
Now, Therefore, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 7th day of June, 1943, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.
In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 7th day of June, A. D. 1943.
THAD EURE,
Secretary of State

Optimism Prevails
As Season Opens
At Lake Junaluska

of Asheville and Charlotte.
The Lake Junaluska church school will be organized next Sunday, and the next ten days, it is believed, will see practically all of the usual activities under way.
Sharing platform honors with former Governor Clyde R. Hoey, the Rev. J. C. Madison, pastor of

First Methodist Church in Waynesville, spoke from the Lake Junaluska pulpit Sunday evening, climaxing Haywood County Day observance which officially opened the season with Governor Hoey's address at 11 a. m.
Mrs. J. Dale Stentz, and Miss Jane Stentz, were guest choir members, Mrs. Stentz serving as pianist and Jane as soloist.
Although the season is not yet really under way Sunday brought an unusually large number of vacation arrivals for this early in the season; registration cards at hotels show a number of first timers.

"When virtues become vices," was the theme of the Rev. Mr. Madison's evening sermon, which was based on the words of Christ, "If the light within thee be darkness, how great is that darkness." The minister declared that virtue itself when misapplied deteriorates into vice. The Pharisees of Bible times, he said, were much more diligent in carrying out their religious observances than are Christians of today, and yet they became the greatest single hindrance to the spread of the teachings of Jesus Christ.
Present day virtues cited by the minister as often degenerating into vices included: Thrift, which may become corrupted until it exalts the material to the displacement of spiritual values; Patriotism, which may outrun devotion to God; Charity, which carried to extreme endangers self respect and zeal which may result in persecution if carried to extreme.

"Virtue, as well as vice, become deadly without the love and spirit of the mind of the Master. For life is saved not by its virtues but by the life-giving spirit of Jesus Christ," he concluded.
Various types of moving pictures will largely comprise the evening programs throughout the week. Two of the programs, Friday evening and Saturday morning, will be in the form of illustrated lectures by Arthur Stupka, representing the United States National Parks, who will give a talk on the scenic wonders of the great Smoky Mountains.
