

New Farm Loan Association Is Given Charter

Retired Members of Waynesville and Sylva Associations To Receive $9,000.

The charter for a new association was given to the Waynesville National Farm Loan Association on October 1, 1943, by the Federal Land Bank of Columbia. The association was organized as a result of the consolidation of four national farm loan associations which have maintained a joint office here for several years. Mr. Noland, who has been serving as secretary of these associations, will continue in the same capacity for the new association.

The new association was organized to effect a stronger organization and provide better service to farmers in this county. The association is a cooperative credit organization owned and controlled entirely by its members. Its purpose is to loan farm mortgage loans for members from the Federal Land Bank of Columbia at a low rate of interest and on terms suited to their needs. The association has an authorized capital of $30,000, divided into six thousand shares, having a par value of $5.00 each. It has $400,000 in assets.

The old Waynesville Association served Haywood, Macon and Wayne counties, and jointly with the Sylva Association in Jackson county. The new association has assumed the assets and liabilities of the four national farm loan associations and all retired members who have paid their loans in full to the Federal Land Bank of Columbia will receive cash for the value of their stock in the association. Mr. Noland stated, "Under this arrangement, retired members of the old Waynesville and Sylva Associations will receive approximately $9,000. This reorganization was made possible through cooperation of the officers and directors of the old Waynesville and Sylva Associations, and the officers and directors of the two new associations which were organized. The new association is affiliated with the Columbia Bank so that more efficient service can be rendered to members in this section at less cost. The association has been designated as issuing agent for Series E Savings Bonds, and I hope members will make some of their purchases through their own organization," Mr. Noland

Typical Of The Changes In Modern Salesmanship

The following letter is said to have been written to a merchant of Raleigh, who showed it to the editor of State Magazine. Whether or not it is bona fide, or merely a joke, it shows a decided change that has taken place in modern salesmanship, with shortages of so many supplies.

Dear Sir:

At the very outset, please let me insist that you keep the contents of this letter strictly confidential.

This is to inform you that I will arrive in Raleigh next Wednesday to spend a few days in your city. I will occupy the Governor's suite at the Sir Walter Hotel.

Inasmuch as I have called upon you for a number of years, I feel that I am justified in extending you a special favor. I will have with me on this trip some samples of our new fall merchandise. If you will telephone my secretary at the hotel, asking for an appointment, will see if I cannot spare you a few minutes, although my time is going to be rather fully occupied. I have golf engagements for every afternoon and, inasmuch as these strenuous days are a strain upon all of us, I try to relax and rest as much as possible; so do not usually get up until around 10 o'clock. However, I will do my utmost to give you a few minutes around noon, if I can conveniently do so.

Kindly do not construe this as a definite promise to sell you any merchandise because I am making you no such promise. And, as I said at the start, under no circumstances must you mention my visit to Raleigh to anyone else. I do not wish to be bothered or annoyed by individuals whom I do not care to see.

I believe my train arrives in Raleigh somewhere around nine o'clock. You might check on this and find out the exact hour. I do not especially care for taxicabs, so if you wish to do so, you may have your car meet me at the station. I might also like to make use of it while I am in your city.

Yours very truly,
Mike Hacklethorpe, Salesman.

P. S. Our present merchandising policy is, of course, for the duration only. After the war is over, I'll be around kicking your boots as in the past.

Directors of the new association are: Jarvis H. Allison, president, Waynesville; Glen A. Boyd, vice president, Waynesville; A. Howell, Waynesville; J. E. Cabe, Otto; and H. H. Rogers, Shooting Creek.

Reverence for God

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for October 10 is Exodus 20:3-7, Matthew 4:10, 6:9, John 4:23, 24, the Golden Text being John 4:24. "God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship in spirit and truth.")

REVERENCE FOR God is the subject of today's lesson. Reverence for Him who made us and every living thing on the earth or anywhere in the universe.

The first three commandments, as given us in Exodus, come first of our Bible references. "Thou shalt have no other gods before Me."

Next, "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth."

It is difficult for us to think of bowing down before a golden calf or any idol like that. But the idols we bow down before, very often, are ourselves, or our desires, or some one or something we love very much and feel we cannot live without. These, too, are idols against which we are warned. God should come first. The parents' attitude toward their Maker usually is reflected in their children's.

Temptation in the Wilderness

The reference in Matthew is to Jesus' temptation in the wilderness. The last temptation was when Satan took Him into a very high mountain and told Him that he would give Jesus all the world to be seen from the mount if He would bow down and worship Satan. Jesus answered him sternly, "Get thee hence, Satan, for it is written thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve."

The devil then knew himself to be beaten and left Him, and angels came and ministered unto Him.

Even when we pray we are not to ask first for those things we want, but to declare our reverence for the holiness of God, for Jesus instructed His followers that thus should they pray.

"After this manner therefore pray ye. Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name."

The last reference is John 4, the 23d and 24th verses.

"But the hour cometh and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship Him."

"God is a spirit and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth."

Do you remember under what circumstances Jesus spoke those words? Most of us older persons have a very clear picture of the well in Samaria and Jesus asking the woman of the country for a drink of water from it.

The woman was surprised that a Jew should ask her for a drink, as usually the Jews had nothing to do with the people of that part of the country. Jesus answered that if she knew who it was who was asking her for a drink, she would have asked of Him and He would have given her living water.

Didn't Understand

The woman didn't understand and asked Jesus how He could draw water from the well with nothing in which to draw it, and Jesus told her that whosoever drank of earthly water would be thirsty again, but whosoever should drink of the spiritual refreshment which He could give would never be thirsty again.

When Jesus seemed to know all about her private life (which had not been virtuous) the woman changed the subject, with a compliment ("Sir, I perceive that Thou art a prophet") saying, "Our fathers worshiped in this mountain, and ye say that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship."

Jesus' answer, "Believe Me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father. . . . But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth."

Not in the mountain only, or even in the church, but everywhere and all through our lives, we will worship the Father and render all reverence to Him.

Baptist Adults Enjoy Fish Fry

Between 50 and 60 members of the adult department of the First Baptist Sunday school enjoyed a fish fry at the F. F. A. Hut on the high school grounds Thursday evening.

J. C. Brown, superintendent of the department, was in charge of all arrangements. No formal program was held.

The women of the department prepared the "trimmings" while the men cooked the fish over the barbecue pit near the hut.

of salt should be applied in cold weather. If there is danger of the meat temperature going above 45 degrees and where hams are to be held for prolonged storage, it is much safer to use a higher concentration of salt. Question: When should cattle be treated for lice?

Answer: Fall is the best season of the year to treat cattle for lice, says L. I. Case, Extension Animal Husbandman at N. C. State College. The treatments are most effective when the animals are taken off the grass, while the weather is still fairly warm, and before the cattle are placed in winter quarters. This avoids getting the winter quarters infested with the biting louse. At least two treatments, 14 or 16 days apart, should be made. The first treatment will kill the grown lice, and the second will eradicate the lice that were unhatched at the time of the first treatment.

—TIMELY— Farm Questions and Answers

Question: I want to plant as many grazing crops as possible this year. Where can I get a grazing schedule?

Answer: Ask your county agent for a copy of War Series Bulletin No. 22 or write the Agricultural Editor, State College, Raleigh, for this publication. It tells what crops to plant, when to seed them, and during what period grazing may be expected in the Coastal Plain, Piedmont or Mountain sections. The best varieties of each crop to plant are also given. Temporary grazing crops can be used throughout the year to furnish additional feed along with good permanent pastures.

Question: What is the proper amount of ingredients for the dry curing of meat?

Answer: Dr. D. E. Brady, in charge of meat research at State College, says that for each 100 pounds of pork, use 5 to 8 pounds of salt, 2 to 3 pounds of sugar, and 2 to 3 ounces of saltpeter. The mixture using the smaller amount
