

Oct. 21 Is Deadline For Renewing 'A' Gasoline Rationing Stamp Book

The applicant must fill in all of the spaces enclosed within the heavy borders on both part "A" and part "B". It is particularly important that he fill in his name and address in the lower left hand corner of part "B".

2. The current tire inspection record, showing that at least one tire inspection has been made, must accompany the renewal application.

3. The back cover of the present basic ration book, with the applicant's name and address appearing in the spaces provided must be included with the application.

If the back cover of the applicant's "A" book has been lost or destroyed, the applicant will be required to establish that he is the registered owner of the vehicle, or is entitled to use it; that the vehicle is currently registered and in operation; that the applicant has not previously applied for or received a renewal of his basic "A" ration and that an application for a renewal is not pending at any other board, and that he has complied with the tire inspection requirements.

In such cases the applicant must also present the motor vehicle registration certificate for the automobile. The serial number of the renewal book issued will be noted on the registration certificate.

In order to make certain all motorists receive their replacement books by the time the present "A" coupons expire, it was urged that motorists file renewal applications by October 21.

Applications can be mailed or sent to the board in person. Under no circumstances, it was explained, will new "A" books be given out at the board over the counter. All books will be mailed to motorists. It will only be a waste of time for the applicant to make application for renewal of his "A" gasoline ration book if he does not file his application by the deadline.

The application form may be obtained from the rationing office or from the county clerk's office in the county.

Motorists now hold a basic "A" ration for a registered vehicle will apply for renewal of their ration in the following manner:
