

Mrs. C. T. Francis Was Winner Of Sweepstakes Prize Achievement Day

A representative number from every home demonstration club in Haywood county organization, which includes a membership of over 500 attended the annual Achievement Day program which was held in a morning and afternoon session Friday in the courtroom of the county courthouse. Mrs. L. J. Cannon of Beaverdam, president of the county council, presided.

Howard R. Clapp, county farm agent, made the principal talk of the morning, taking as his subject the food production goals of 1943 and how they had been met in the county, and the goals for 1944. He pointed out the women could aid in this work and commended them for the part they had taken.

In the afternoon the group heard Col. Morgan Ashley, chaplain of Moore General Hospital, a former member of Rutland, Vt., who has been in active service for the past three years, and in the U. S. Army reserve for 18 years. Col Ashley spoke on the importance of the morale of the men in the service.

He stated that they must not only be kept mentally and physically fit, but also spiritually well, and able to face combat. He stressed the fact that it was up to the women to keep the homes happy, the churches active, and the communities ready to welcome the boys upon their return.

Much interest centered in the exhibits of food and crafts by both clubs and individual members. Mrs. C. T. Francis won the sweepstakes prize given to the person winning the largest number of awards, a coffee table given by Garrett's Furniture Store. The gavel was won by the Beaverdam Club for the largest attendance at the meeting.

Truthfulness at All Times

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Nov. 28 is Exodus 20:16; 23:1, 7; Matt. 5:33-37; John 8:42-45, the Golden Text being Ephesians 4:25. "Wherefore, putting away falsehood, speak ye truth each one with his neighbor; for we are members one of another.") commandment is expanded and developed in these words.

Our Lord said, "Ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths. The word 'perform' has been interpreted to mean pay, or recompense, or render to the Lord thine oaths. This means the oath becomes a debt to the Lord, which must be surely paid when we take an oath which must be kept because it is a vow to the Lord.

The Jews of the time were very fond of swearing in the name of Jehovah, by the law, by the temple, by the altar, by the lamb, etc., much as children nowadays insist they are telling the truth by the statement, "cross my heart."

Jesus said, "Swear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is God's throne: Nor by earth; for it is His footstool; neither by Jerusalem; for it is the city of the great King. But let your communication be Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil."

Tell Truth Without Oath

Quakers and Moravians will not take an oath because they think Jesus meant this literally that they should not swear under any circumstances, and the law allows them to testify without taking the oath. With us it is a mere form, however, as if we live as we should, we always tell the truth without swearing to do it. If we don't we are not true Christians.

The Jews claimed that they were children of God, but when He sent Jesus to them, they refused to listen to Him and hated and tried to kill Him. So Jesus told them they could not really be children of God or they would do His bidding.

"If God were your Father, ye would love Me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of Myself, but He sent Me."

"Why do ye not understand My speech?" Their rejection and persecution of Him, He told them, proved that far from being sons of God, they must come from the devil, the evil one. "When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own, for he is a liar, and the father of it."

"And because I tell you the truth, ye believe Me not."

Isn't it a terrible tragedy that these people had Jesus in their midst, and they "knew Him not?" They were told the truth, but refused to believe.

Truth Most Important

Truthfulness is one of the most important virtues we can possess. Not only will a lie hurt others, but it hurts the liar even more. They say of some man that "his word is as good as his bond," which means that such a person does not need to take an oath that he is telling the truth. Everyone believes what he says because he is known to always be truthful. Such a person is to be envied and imitated.

On the contrary, to be known as a liar is a dreadful thing for a man, a woman or a child. "I can believe my child," a mother should be able to say, "for he always tells me the truth." Lives have been ruined financially and homes broken up by lies.

False Swearing

Verses 1 and 7 of the 23d chapter of Exodus read: "Thou shalt not raise a false report; put not thine hand with the wicked to be an unrighteous witness." And "Keep thee far from a false matter; and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for I will not justify the wicked." The ninth

Army Has Prepared Real Thanksgiving Dinner For The Soldiers In Camp

It's going to be turkey with trimmings on Thanksgiving Day, for the soldiers at Army posts and camps in the southeastern states—and there'll be no skimpy helpings.

Prepared menus show that there will be 100 pounds of turkey for every 100 men—and a pound of turkey is not a lunchroom sandwich slice of meat in any language.

Neither will the boys be exactly starved at breakfast on this holiday. For the morning meal—just to whet their appetites for the "big feed" at noon they'll have: Oranges, dry cereal, fresh milk, hot cakes, bacon, toast, butter, sirup and coffee.

And the mess sergeants are going to feed them in the evening just like they hadn't had a belt-bustin' meal at noon—and it won't be turkey hash. That'll come later. For supper they'll have: Cold cuts, sliced cheese, potato cakes, left over vegetables, bread, butter, peanut butter, cocoa.

Here's the menu for that Thanksgiving Dinner, traditional events in the Army:

Fruit cup
Roast turkey with dressing and gravy
cranberry sauce
Mashed potatoes buttered peas
Corn Tomato and lettuce
Crisp celery Assorted pickles
Hot rolls Butter
Pumpkin Pie
Apples Grapes Candies Nuts
Coffee

State College Hints To Farm Homemakers

Fats must not be wasted as they are essential to health, furnish energy, make diets more satisfying, and give food better taste.

Save all the drippings from meat and use them for baking, drying and seasoning. These include drippings from bacon, ham and other cured pork, roast pork, roast beef, roast lamb, broiled meats and sausage.

The drippings used for making gravies need not be strained. However, before storing drippings, strain them through a cloth. They may all be kept in the same container, except sausage drippings which should be saved separately for seasoning. Cool them at room temperature before storing, and cover closely before storing in the refrigerator.

Don't throw away meat trimmings. Trim the excess fat from uncooked beef, lamb, and fresh and cured pork for rendering.

Keep in the refrigerator until ready to render. Then chop fine or grind and render the fat from different kinds of meat together or separately. Render them slowly over a simmer burner or in a double boiler, and strain the rendered fat through a cloth. Cool at room temperature. Cover closely and store in a refrigerator. Use the fat for baking, drying, or seasoning.

Grind or crush "cracklings" (the crisp, brown pieces left after fat is rendered) and use in quick breads, especially corn breads or in meat loaves and patties.

Traffic On N. C. Highways Drops

RALEIGH — Traffic on North Carolina highways has taken a sharp drop. The 20 electric eye counters show 46 per cent fewer cars passed in October than in the same month of last year. The cut in gasoline coupon values is given as the reason.

Next Year Will Be Different

NEXT year will be different. Not only the weather, and markets, and the needs of the country. Our jobs will be different, too. Because next year we're going to do those jobs differently—and we hope better!

We, whose job is producing goods and services, have been making resolutions like this for years. And we've been keeping them! For in our kind of business, you either keep on finding better ways of doing things, or—you go backward! And if enough people do that, the thing we call progress bogs down.

That's why farmers keep on trying new seed, and fertilizers, and machines, and strains of stock. That's the reason industry carries on research—another name for a constant search for new knowledge and better ways to do things. Because most of us have been doing this for years, America has had the highest standard of living in the world. And it's the reason, too, that American production is doing so much today to bring victory.

After the war, America is going to need more than ever men with the courage and enterprise to invest time, money, and hard work in the search for better things. And if America's producers understand each other, and each other's problems, we'll be able to do these all-important jobs better. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

The Greeneville Tobacco Market

Opens On December 7th

High Prices Are Not Only Expected To Rule For This Crop, But Also For The 1944 and 1945 Crops

Although, due to favorable handling weather, more than half of the crop will be ready for market at the opening, there is no reason to rush to sell or cause to put tobacco on any floor a week or ten days and have it drift in quality as a result of exposure before it is sold.

Two Daily Sales Prevent Such Exposure On the Greeneville Market

The War has caused much shifting of tobacco forces. However, Greeneville being an ESTABLISHED MARKET, both small and large manufacturers, as heretofore, will be represented, assuring strong competition on all grades. In this connection, the following is copied from the Southern Tobacco Journal:

Multiple Buying

"To reduce buying expenses it is common practice for Companies to place buying orders . . . this is especially true on the smaller markets.

"Thus a company, instead of incurring the expense of maintaining ITS OWN BUYER on a certain market, places a buying order with a LEAF DEALER who has a buyer at that market.

"This buyer bids not only on behalf of his employer, but possibly half a dozen other companies.

"Were it not for the multiple buying orders it is probable that many of the smaller markets would cease to operate, and the existing trend toward elimination of small markets would be more pronounced.

"Viewed alone, multiple buying may become an abuse which is hurtful to the interests of the growers by reason of the fact that competition in buying is diminished."—Southern Tobacco Journal.

Due to war conditions, multiple buying during the duration will increase on the smaller markets and the grower having more than an acre should bear that fact in mind, and if not a too long haul, sell it on an ESTABLISHED MARKET.
