

Miss Jean Boring, Daughter Of Former Resident, Weds In Oxford

Of interest locally was the marriage of Miss Jean Boring and James Crawford Williams, petty officer, second class, United States Navy, which took place in a ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Boring in Oxford, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 3rd.

The bride is the niece of Miss Lois Harold of Waynesville, and has often visited here, with her mother, the former Miss Naomi Harold.

As the wedding guests assembled Miss Lucy Webb, pianist, played a program of pre-nuptial music, which included, "To An Evening Star," by Tannhauser, and "Calm as the Night," by Bohm. During the ceremony she played, "O Perfect Love," by Barby. Immediately prior to the taking of the vows, Miss Betsy Shotwell, soprano, sang "I Love Thee," by Grieg and "Because," by d'Hardelot. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The residence was decorated in pink and white chrysanthemums. The mantel in the living room served as a background for the improvised altar of ferns. Cathedral candles flanked the ferns. Southern smilax was arranged on the mantel.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a becoming suit of beige wool jersey, with black accessories and her corsage was of red roses.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Minor Boring, maid of honor who wore a gown of black crepe trimmed in blue. Her flower girls were an arm bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Hatcher C. Williams, as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained a wedding party and guests at a buffet supper.

The bride is a graduate of the Durham high school and Mrs. Fuller's Secretarial school in Oxford. For the past year she has

Menu Beef Shank Barley Soup

By BETSY NEWMAN
THIS RATION program takes me back to my childhood and some of my favorite dishes. I am thinking particularly of beef shank stew or soup with vegetables. A beef shank is low in points so we're reviving this good dish at my house.

Today's Menu
Breakfast
Tomato or Orange Juice
Cereal with Milk
Soft Boiled Eggs
Coffee
Luncheon
Macaroni and Cheese
Whole Wheat Bread
Stewed Peas

Dinner
Beef Shank Barley Soup
or Beef Shank Stew
Hashed Brown Potatoes
Mixed Vegetable Salad
Dutch Apple Pie
Coffee

Beef Shank Barley Soup
2 lbs. beef shank
2 c. water
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 c. diced celery
1/2 c. diced or sliced carrot
1/2 c. chopped onions
1/2 tsp. cayenne
2 tbsps. parsley, chopped
1 qt. soup stock
for beef bouillon
1 tbsps. barley
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Add water and seasonings to beef shank and simmer about 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Pick meat from bones and return meat to stock. Add vegetables, soup stock and barley and simmer 25 to 30 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce and serve. Serves 5.
Another method of making this soup is to completely cover meat with water and simmer the requisite amount of time until meat is tender. If this is done, there will be enough soup without adding stock. Different vegetables may be used such as celery, turnips, etc., as many as your ingenuity can suggest and in various combinations.

Beef Shank Stew
2 lbs. beef shank cut in 2-inch pieces
2 tbsps. oil or other fat
2 tbsps. salt
Brown meat in lard or fat season, add tomatoes, water sliced onion and celery. Cover and cook slowly, or bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 2 hours. Serves 4 or 5.

Plain, unflavored gelatin helps to stretch fruits and fruit juices and other hard to get foods. None of the flavor of such foods is lost, as the gelatin has no flavor of its own.
