MANAGER—Announcement by Dr. Ralph McDonald last Sunday night that E. D. Broadhurst, Greensboro attorney, would manage his campaign was greeted around Raleigh with gladness on the part of McDonald supporters and with some lifted eyebrows by the Cherry folks.

"Dr. McDonald could not have found a better man," remarked one Cherry stalwart, but he would not say whether there are better men or whether Cherry already has better men in his camp.

But any way you look at it, E. D. Broadhurst is a good man for the place. He should do the doctor a great deal of good, for he is an old educational leader and a man who commands the respect of the people of the State. And he isn't a politician. In fairness to Broadhurst—and let the chips fall where they will—he went down the line against Al Smith in the knock-down-drag-out fight which shook the foundations of the Democratic party in North Carolina in 1928. Broadhurst was a Simmons man—no small honor.

Mr. Cherry has had his organizational troubles in Guilford, but his followers were of the opinion he had smoothed them out. How he had smoothed them out. How he had smoothed them out. How he had smoothed them out. How he had smoothed them out.

DANIELS—The Raleigh News and Observer will support Dr. McDonald, it seems certain now. Although Ralph did not go down the road for the ninth month as strongly as Josephus Daniels might have wished, some writers of influence on the paper's staff do not like Major Gregg Cherry, so the paper will be pro-McDonald. Of course it is impossible at this time to say how "pro—" the News and Observer will be. Cherry won't look to this paper for a great deal of encouragement.

SOON—R. G. Cherry will announce his campaign manager between now and February 15, at which time he is scheduled to formally open headquarters in Raleigh. Everybody will be surprised if it is not W. B. Umstead of Durham.

BOOKS—Carl Goerch, editor publisher of "The State", has sold a total of 4,500 copies of his "Down Home" book, around 2,000 more than he had figured on selling.

Now Mr. Goerch is contemplating making a book of his "Funny Experiences" series. This should be even better than "Down Home."

CHATTER—Although there is a great deal of chatter regarding FDR's running mate, you may rest assured that it will be of the President's own choosing—and that the Democrats will take it and like it.

FLETCHER—There are reports around Raleigh that Major A. L. Fletcher, now in Washington, is planning to support Dr. Ralph McDonald. If so, this will not be the first time that members of the popular Fletcher family (Major Fletcher's brother, A. J., owns WRAL) have been supporters of McDonald.

KILGORE—Ben Kilgore, son of the late Dr. B. W. Kilgore, State agricultural leader, will return to Kentucky within the next few days to resume his political career in the Blue Grass state. Although defeated for governor, Kilgore is still very popular in Kentucky. Since last fall he has been in Washington helping big Ed O'Neal run the American Farm Bureau Federation. Although defeated by a narrow margin as a gubernatorial candidate on the Democratic ticket, reports are that Kilgore is the fair-minded boy in Kentucky politics.

HONORS—The Sylva Herald, the Elkin Tribune, the Waynesville Mountaineer and the Chatham News of Siler City, all won important prizes for excellence and community service at the recent gathering of newspaper folks in Chapel Hill, and—strange coincidence—all of them carry this column... a cue for other papers wanting to make good.

BOOST—Many North Carolina papers are following the Elkin Tribune's lead in boosting Thurmond Chatham for Secretary of the Navy. He is the man for the place, whether a Democrat is elected President or not. Watch this space for more comment on this subject—"Thurmond Chatham for Secretary of the Navy". Chatham is an able man.

Note in a North Carolina small weekly newspaper: "Due to shortage of paper a number of births will be postponed until next week."

Care Necessary For Keeping Flavor And Value of Milk

Safety, good keeping qualities, cleanliness, proper food value, and good flavor are most desirable in high quality milk and milk products, says W. L. Clevenger, dairy manufacturing specialist of the State College extension service.

From a selling standpoint, probably the most important of these is good flavor.

"The flavor of milk varies greatly among cows," says Clevenger. "The amount of butterfat contained in the milk in relation to the sugar, protein, and ash it contains, will also affect the flavor. In the same way, the feed that a cow eats will be reflected in the milk she produces.

"Some milk is inclined to a watery taste, even though it is fairly high in butterfat. And, the feed and fruit flavors may be evident in the milk from some cows, while that from other animals that have been fed the same diet will have little or none of the flavor defects," Clevenger says.

He points out that if certain roughages are fed within five hours of milking, they are inclined to give an off-flavor to milk. While such flavors are not as serious as those resulting from certain weeds, they detract from the quality of the product. "Proper herd management is necessary to reduce flavor defects to a minimum," says the dairy specialist.

The electric companies belong to

MAIN STREET

WAR has helped destroy a lot of America's old illusions. The idea that all South Sea beauties look like Dorothy Lamour. The idea that all Englishmen wear monocles and all Russians whiskers. The idea that all electric companies are the exclusive property of a handful of wealthy people.

Utility securities are popular investments with the banks, insurance companies and fraternal orders which hold your savings in trust for you. Why? Because cheap, dependable electric service is so basic to your way of life. Because this service is provided and protected by experienced business management.

The efficient way in which huge quantities of electricity are being delivered to roaring war plants and quiet homes—with rationing, at low pre-war prices—has given the folks on Main Street a clearer understanding of their personal interest in the electric light and power companies.

Wherever you live in America—on Main Street, Park Avenue, or RD No. 1—your money has helped to build the electric industry and you have a large stake in it.

Actually, few if any other industries are so widely owned. Directly, by many thousands of individual stockholders—housewives, farmers, mechanics, factory workers, teachers. Indirectly, by the millions of savings bank depositors and insurance policyholders—which includes almost every adult American.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them! Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—a constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval.
