

Hilda Leatherwood Joins The WAVES

One of the 27 North Carolina girls in the most recent WAVES training class at famed Hunter college, New York, and who are joining to send messages back to their girl friends suggesting they join up during the statewide WAVES drive, Feb. 21 to March 5, is attractive Mrs. Hilda M. Leatherwood, 23, of Waynesville.

Mrs. Leatherwood has been recently assigned to further training at the Yeoman's School, Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls.

"The WAVES are wonderful," she writes. "There are 21 different types of jobs that the Navy has set aside to be done by women as plans were laid for the coming Pacific invasions. These are exciting jobs, jobs that will 'Help Invade Japan.' They involve travel throughout the United States, and they are jobs in which you work side by side with the men who man our fighting ships and planes.

"Ninety-two thousand women are needed by the end of this year to man the jobs set aside for women to do for the Navy. You can help win the war and be trained in a good post war job at the same time, and get pay for it.

"So the WAVES recruiter during this campaign and join us in showing the Nation that North Carolina, the state where the idea of women in the navy was born, can and will rally to the Navy

Ewe Lambs Ready 250 Fine Bred For N. C. Farms

Any farmers in this State wanting to get into the sheep business or to increase the size of their flocks may do so now at a reasonable cost, R. S. Curtis, sheep marketing specialist with the State Department of Agriculture explained as he discussed plans for carrying on the sheep rehabilitation project for North Carolina this year.

At the present time, he said, the Department has 250 fine Wyoming-bred ewe lambs which it is selling at actual cost to any farmers interested in growing sheep. According to Curtis, these are the finest sheep which have been brought into this State under the present project for increasing the

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

That's America marching — and America watching — both stirred by a warm patriotic pride so real you can feel it. The strength of this nation in peace or war is the strength of all who have a mutual interest in it. You realize that you have a large stake in America — but very likely you overlook the size of your personal stake in the industries that help build America. Take the electric light and power companies, for example. Perhaps, like some of your friends and neighbors, you own stock in your electric company. But even if you don't, you have a definite interest just the same. Your bank and insurance company, which have your savings in trust for you — as well as colleges, hospitals, fraternal orders — make large investments in utility securities. There your money goes to work — powering war plants, lighting homes — guided and guarded by experienced business management. So you have a mutual investment in industry and in America. * Hear "Report to the Nation," news program of the week, every Tuesday evening, 9-30, E.M.T., Columbia Broadcasting System.
