DEATHS

Mrs. Emma Hooper

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at Pleasant Balsam Baptist Church for Mrs. Emma Hooper, wife of the late Rev. Merritt Hooper of Hazelwood, who died at the home of her brother, A. M. Adams, at Waynesville, R. F. D. No. 1, on Saturday afternoon around 6 o'clock, after a long illness.

The Rev. W. L. Sorrells, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. J. C. Massengil of Cowarts. Burial was at Tuckasegee.

Serving as pallbearers were: Jonnie Sparks, Oscar Knight, A. N. Griffin, Will Moore, H. H. Eavenson, and O. Knight.

Surviving are one brother, two sisters, Mrs. A. M. Allen of Hazelwood, and Mrs. O. L. Hooper of Tuckasegee.

Mrs. Robert E. Cowan

Funeral services will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at the Old Thicketty Church for Mrs. Robert E. Cowan, 62, who died at her home in the Thicketty section of the county at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. Burial will be in the Old Thicketty cemetery.

Rev. Berry Grice will officiate. Pallbearers will be nephews as follows: Grady, Conley and Claude Ford, A. L. Holland, Robert Cowan and Elmer Cowan.

Nieces will have charge of the flowers.

Mrs. Cowan was a native of this county, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ford. Surviving are her husband; five brothers, Joe and Albert Ford of Asheville, Johnny and Ben Ford of Clyde, R.F.D. No. 1, and Jim Ford of Canton, R.F.D. No. 1; two sisters, Mrs. Albert Warren and Mrs. Dewey Holland of Clyde, R.F.D. No. 1.
The Garrett Funeral home will be in charge of the arrangements.

Note Plant Deficiency
Close observation of plants should suggest the presence of any nutrient deficiency. A light green color in the foliage, for example, indicates lack of nitrogen; slow growth, a lack of phosphorus; and low disease resistance and poor quality a lack of potash.

First Marine Band
The first marine corps band, consisting of a drum major, five major and 32 drums and fifes, was authorized by congress July 11, 1798.

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES

Jones—You know I don't think my wife tells me the truth all the time.
Smith—What makes you say that?
Jones—Well, the other day I accused my wife of taking a quarter out of my pocket. She said she didn't know I had a quarter, in the second place she never put her hands in my pockets and in the third place she couldn't have taken the quarter because that pocket had a hole in it!

NOBODY HOME

Nit—What did you say?
Wit—I don't know. I wasn't listening!

Bonus Time
New Employee—Do you give your workers a two weeks' vacation?
Boss—A month!
N. E.—That's swell of you!
Boss—Yes, everybody gets two weeks' vacation when they go on theirs and two weeks' when I go on mine!

Help!
Jones—Getting people for jobs these days is almost impossible!
Smith—I'll say. Why, I saw a sign in a drug store today that said, "Wanted—Soda Clerk, full or part time, experienced or inexperienced, man or woman, dead or alive!"

Younger Generation
Teen-age Girl—Little boy, what would your father do if he knew you were out on the street this late at night?
Little Boy—I don't know. What does your father do to you?

Conducted Tour:
Bill—Have you ever visited a penitentiary?
Joe—Sure!
Bill—How long did it take you to go through it?
Joe—Close to five years!

All for One
Harry—My wife won five hundred bucks at the races yesterday and split with me.
Jerry—You got half?
Harry—No, she packed her bag and left me!

Depression Ahead
Airline Official—There's only one thing that worries me when planes start flying around the world.
Second A. O.—What's that?
A. O.—We'll only be able to sell one way tickets!

Poor Papa
Sonny—Dad, what's leisure?
Daddy—Leisure, my son, is the two minutes' rest a man gets while his wife finds something else for him to do!

Due to Who?
Blue—It isn't my fault that I got into debt.
Brown—No? How's that?
Blue—It was all owing to other people!

Thoroughbred
Bill—Did you say your dog was half Spitz?
Jerry—Yes, one half sits and the other half spits!

RING FOR MORE!

Joan—Was the ring Harry gave you set with precious stones?
Jane—Yes, precious few!

That's Different
Jones—My mother-in-law has only visited our home once since I was married.
Smith—Personally, I'd say you were lucky.
Jones—Lucky nothing! She came for a visit and has been there ever since.

Too Risky
Wife—You need a haircut. Why don't you let me do it for you?
Husband—No thanks! The last man I knew who let a woman cut his hair was Samson, and look what happened to him!

Subway Fare
Man (sitting)—Excuse me, lady, but you're standing on my feet.
Lady (standing)—Well, you ought to be standing on them yourself!

Bad to Worse
Nit—Can you use the word "indorse" in a sentence?
Wit—Sure! We always play indorse when we can't play indiscreet!

One of the Family!
Bill—Well, have your girl's family accepted you yet?
Joe—I'll say. I got bawled out last night for using the guest towel!

Dead Broke
Jane—My face is my fortune.
Joan—Well, you'll never have to worry about paying an income tax!

Both Cracked
Nit—I want a candy bar!
Wit—Nuts?
Nit—Nuts yourself! Forge' it!

Lions Club Hear Address By Mrs. Sam Queen

Mrs. Sam Queen, county superintendent of public welfare in Haywood county, addressed the Lions Club on last Thursday evening at their regular dinner meeting. She enumerated the services rendered a county by a department of public welfare.

Mrs. Queen stressed the particular services that the Lions Club could aid which included referring the children with defective sight or hearing or other physical handicaps, so that they might benefit from the special services the department gives.

The speaker also emphasized that the fact that there should be more follow up work among the children the Lions Club supplies with glasses. She pointed out that too often the children wear the glasses such a short time that no real benefit is derived and in such cases the cost of the glasses is a waste of money.

Mrs. Queen called upon the members of the club to use their influence in securing a school attendance officer for Haywood county, as truancy is on the increase and is a big factor in juvenile delinquency.
