Verlin Campbell Surpasses Francis As Turnip Grower

Last week it appeared that Chas. C. Francis well known farmer of the Ratcliff Cove section, was the master grower of turnips in Haywood County. This week another announcement is forthcoming.

The honor to date will have to be claimed by Verlin Campbell in the turnips he has grown for the Grace Lumber Company on the rich black loamy soil on Max Patch.

Four rutabagas grown by Mr. Campbell weighed 23 and three-quarters pounds and four turnips totaled 20 and a half pounds, as against four turnips grown by Mr. Francis weighing 12 pounds.

One Campbell turnip weighed 5 pounds and one of the rutabagas ran the scales up to seven pounds.

Both the Francis and Campbell vegetables were weighed in The Mountaineer office and on the same scales. The display is still at this newspaper office.

Mr. Campbell it also a master potato grower. This year around

Pvt. R. L. Gunter Reported Slightly Mounded In Italy

Private Robert L. Gunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawery Gunter, of Waynesville, R.F.D. No. 1, was slightly wounded on September 12th in Italy, according to information received by his parents in a message from the War Department.

Pvt. Gunter entered the service in February, 1942, and was inducted at Fort Jackson. From the latter he was transferred to Fort Eustis, Va., and later sent to Camp Wolters, Texas. From Texas he was sent to Fort George Meade, Md.

He served on combat for six months before he was wounded. Before entering the service he had charge of the Cy Moak farm on Allen's Creek.

Pvt. Gunter has two brothers in the service: Pfc. Hughey Gunter, who is now serving with the Air Force in England, and Cpl. Coy R. Gunter, now stationed at Fort Jackson.

"That's odd. What are you, a confidence man?"
"No, I sell slip-on sweaters."
"I make my living pulling wool over people's eyes."

8,000 bushels will be dug on the 25-acre "patch" on Max Patch, which he has grown for the Grace Lumber Company.

Yount Brothers Visit Parents

OLIVER A. YOUNT, JR., F. I. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver A. Yount, recently spent a ten-day leave here with his parents and friends, having recently returned from sea duty on a destroyer. He participated in a 64-hour battle in the Normandy invasion. Fireman Yount volunteered in the Navy 18 months ago and was inducted at Norfolk, Va., and from there was sent to Bambridge, Md., for his boot training, after which he was assigned to sea duty. He was a student in the Waynesville Township high school at the time he volunteered, and later returned at commencement for his diploma. During his high school years, he was employed at the Pet Dairy Products Company during the summer vacations. Fireman Yount left here for New York where he reported for his next assignment.

CPL. JAMES L. YOUNT, who is stationed at the Oliver General Hospital in Augusta, joined his brothers here for a visit with their parents. It was the first time they had seen each other in 18 months. Cpl. Yount, who has been in the service for the past two and one-years, has been stationed at his present post for two years where he is serving as chief projectionist in the government theatre there and also part of his time in the broadcasting studio.

Sgt. Cecil B. Yount, another brother, who was stationed in the Hawaiian Islands for 38 months, was killed in action on Saipan following the invasion on July 8.

PEACE AMONG 'DRAGON'S TEETH'

UNLIKE THE ACTION PICTURES we associate with the Siegfried Line, this one shows an Allied soldier leaning against one of the "Dragon's Teeth" barricades jutting down a few words to the folks at home, while a cow browses peacefully in the background. (International)
