MARINES COOK WITH STEAM ON IWO

How many occupations in this picture?

There are no tricks—no hidden faces. Just see how many ordinary, everyday occupations you can find. Count 'em before you check the answer in the tiny type below.

Whatever the number, it's a pretty safe bet that all these occupations—and many more—are represented among the folks who own your local electric light and power company.

Housewives and farmers lead the stockholder lists of most such companies. But there are plenty of nurses and doctors, teachers and mechanics, secretaries and salesmen, too. There are several million of these direct owners—and you may be among them.

Certainly you are included among the indirect owners, if you have a savings account or life insurance policy. When you make a deposit or pay a premium, the money isn't just stuffed in a strong-box and left there. It's put to work earning a profit for you—a profit called "interest."

Banks and insurance companies invest your money carefully. They put a large proportion of it into electric light and power securities—because these companies have proved their basic soundness over the years by dependable service and good business management.

So the electric industry is probably the most widely owned industry in America. Almost every American has a stake in it. And what helps the industry help you.
