Magazines

For the benefit of those borrowers who want up-to-the-minute information, opinions and observations on matters of current interest, the Haywood County Library offers a wide variety of magazines from which to choose. The current issues are held for reference so that the readers may have an opportunity to find what they want when they need them. After the new issue is received, the magazines are loaned for one week.

In order that the magazines may be used to their fullest extent the library has added the "Abridged Reader's Guide", which indexes most of the better known magazines. The arrangement is planned for effective use for the reader. Every item published in a magazine is indexed in a magazine index is included.

The articles appear under author, title and subject and the reference is to author, title and periodical in which the article appears, including the pagination, volume, and date. Illustrations, portraits, and maps are indicated. Poems which have been published in periodicals and are then not can be easily traced through the Reader's Guide.

Sample Entry

India
Verdict on India; abridged B. Nichols. Reader's Digest 26: 15-28 F-45
The above entry shows that an article on India can be found in the February issue of the Reader's Digest.

Recently an army major was in the library looking for an article on Alaska which appeared in the Reader's Digest sometime last year. With the use of the Reader's Guide to periodical literature the article was found in five minutes.

During the months of January and February 1944 magazines were circulated from headquarters. The following magazines are now being received regularly: Atlantic Monthly, American, American Girl, Better Homes and Gardens, Boy's Life, Child Life, Christian Science Magazine, Collier's, Cosmopolitan, Current Biography, D.A.R. Magazine.

Education for Victory, Extension Farm News, Good Housekeeping, Harper's, Holland, Household, Ladies Home Journal, Life, McCall's, National Geographic, New Republic, Newsweek, Parents, Popular Mechanics, Popular Science, Reader's Digest, Redbook, Saturday Evening Post, Time, U.D.C. Magazine, Wilson Library Bulletin, Wings, Woman's Home Companion, and Young Wings.

Arrives In France

PVT. JACK W. SETZER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Setzer, of Waynesville, R.F.D. No. 2, has arrived in France, according to a message received by his parents. Pvt. Setzer volunteered in the service in September, 1944, and received his basic training at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and from there was transferred to Fort George Meade, Md., and then overseas. Before entering the service he was employed by The Food Store here. He has two brothers in the service, The Gilmer J. Setzer, now somewhere on the Western Front and Sgt. Carl A. Setzer, who is stationed at Camp Lee, Va.

Here lies I, and no wonder I'm dead,
For the wheel of the wagon went over my head.

And some typographical errors can change the complexion of things and some folks. For instance:

SNAP SHOTS

By

We like to laugh. Of course to those who know us that is a superfluous assertion. But there is something so heart-warming about a good laugh. Medical researchers say that a hearty laugh puts into play every muscle and nerve in the body; stirs up latent emotions and, to make a long story much shorter, is much enjoyed by all. There are a few, very few fortunately, who think it is beneath their dignity to explode into a muscular expulsion of hilarity.

Last week there came to our desk a new book, "10,000 Jokes, Toasts and Stories," edited by Lewis and Faye Copeland. "It is a riot and should be on the table of every dentist, doctor and Income Tax registrar. In other words, wherever a good laugh would make one forget for a minute whatever it was they came for. Naturally one would think that a tombstone would be the last thing on earth to evoke laughter, but listen to these:

Teacher: "Tommy, name five things that contain milk."
Tommy: "Butter an' cheese, ice cream an' two cows."

Teacher: "Jimmy, what is a skeleton?"
Jimmy: "A skeleton is something with its insides out and its outside in."

And we'll finish off with that old-time favorite:
Teacher: "Jimmy, what is a skeleton?"
Jimmy: "A skeleton is something with its insides out and its outside in."

Elmer L. V. Harris Promoted To Sergeant

Elmer L. V. Harris, son of J. Lee Harris, of Old Fort, formerly of Waynesville, has been recently promoted from corporal to sergeant, according to information received from headquarters of an Eighth Air Force service command station in England.

Sgt. Harris is a carpenter in the supply division of the major repair and supply base where he aids in the repair and maintenance of aircraft woodwork in an air depot where damaged B-24 Liberator bombers are reconditioned for further combat against the enemy.

Sgt. Harris was a carpenter for seven years before he joined the service in Asheville in September, 1942. He attended an aircraft mechanic school before being sent overseas in September, 1943.

Sgt. Curtis entered the service as a volunteer and left here with Company "H", national guard unit. He has recently been awarded the Bronze Oak Leaf Cluster, and the Bronze Star for meritorious conduct in combat.

His wife is the former Miss Edna Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Carver, of Waynesville.
