it should all be settled one way or the other by the time you read this—you may know that President Roosevelt's ideas are being carried out much better than North Carolina liberals thought they would be two weeks ago.

LEND—It now looks as if lend-lease is going to move in on your State capital within the next few weeks in the form of a prefabricated housing program. If present plans materialize, the State Fair Grounds will be rented to a company which throws together small homes for use in countries conquered by Germany. The material which will be used in the construction of these houses will be of sturdy, though light-weight material. The work should last for about six months, employing from 200 to 250 carpenters and laborers. Since this firm has the highest priority obtainable on labor, there should be no difficulty in this field. Non-essential business in Raleigh will kick some at the idea of losing their help, but it is felt that the Government's program of brotherly love must continue—and the project will mean a neat sum RECIPES—The American News Service of New York City is interested in selling "Favorite Recipes of North Carolina" throughout the nation, and it now looks as if the circulation of this State cook book may reach a half million copies. The first 20,000 were sold out in four months.

70—Back yonder in 1936-37 when Roosevelt was giving the Nine Old Men on the Supreme Court such worry, he was severely criticized. And when he set the retirement age of these august justices at 70, Federal Judge Ike Meekins, of Elizabeth City, a good Republican, tore into the President with genuine gusto. The very idea, he said, of retiring judges at 70.

And yet—and yet, a few weeks ago on the very day Judge Meekins reached the age of 70 he upped and retired right there. Funny world.

72—Don't pay any attention to those rumors that Senator J. W. Bailey will be made Secretary of the Interior. In the first place, the present secretary, though mean as a snake in the eyes of many, is doing a bang-up good job, and in the second place, Senator Bailey is in bad health, has been for some time. He will be 72 in September, and it is sometimes difficult for him to carry along his Senatorial duties as he would like. The rumor, however, does show that there is close friendship between President Truman and Senator Bailey, and that is good for North Carolina. The Interior position now carries about 30 different jobs, and it is no place for any man of age or ill health.

PREDICTION—You may not believe in astrology (the study of the stars in relation to world events) and chances are Hitler doesn't now, but here is what Astrologist Alma Gramm wrote last September in

He entered the service in August, 1944 at Fort Dix, N. J., and was sent to a post in Alabama for his basic training. He was sent overseas in February of this year. At the time he entered the service he was employed in a defense plant in Bridgeton, N. J.

He has one brother in the service, S/Sgt. Paul R. Shelton, who entered the service in November, 1942, and is also serving in the Philippines.

The 1945 Astrology Forecast:

"In the 1945 chart for Washington, Neptune is rising. This is ominous since Saturn is squaring Neptune. Saturn is on the mid-heaven.

"This means national sorrow over the passing of American leaders. Death strikes the White House. The flag will be at half mast. . . the nation will be submerged in sorrowful conditions."
Two men in the White House have died thus far, President Roosevelt and Major-Gen. Edwin Watson, his aid, and the year isn't half over. . .

EVIDENCE—You are likely surprised at the lack of news about the many appointments to be made by Governor Gregg Cherry. Well, nobody seems to know who will be appointed to the various places—and a lot of guessing on these items is the principal part of most political conversations around here.
As said above, nobody on the outside seems to know—and there isn't any too much evidence that Governor Cherry knows.

SNAP SHOTS

By Frances Gilbert Frazier Staff Writer

Suppose, right this minute, just like that, this whole world suddenly changed! Nothing was ever just like it was one minute before! Suppose, you heard whistles blowing, church bells ringing, people shouting, sirens roaring and you realized that the fearful holocaust started by the Germans had burned out! What would your first reaction be?

Would a prayer form on your lips, tears flood your eyes and a contraction of the muscles in your throat keep words from coming forth? Well, if you're a real American these are what your very first impulses will be. No thought will come to your mind of throwing confetti, throwing a big party or "throwing a fit." One can hardly feel that this occasion should call for a celebration; too much blood, sorrow and suffering have gone before the triumph, and too much blood, sorrow and suffering still lie ahead before we can call it "Peace on Earth." When that day comes, which it must assuredly be well on the way to arriving, then we can all join in the singing and rejoicing. We'll have twice as much to celebrate and a real reason for tearing up telephone books, screaming at the top of our voices and otherwise acting insanely. Let's wait until that day. It will be well worth it.

After reading in the newspapers of the horrible atrocities committed by the Axis powers, surely there must arise a feeling of such deep resentment that joyful acclamations would seem terribly out of place. In time, perhaps, we may not remember quite so vividly but right now, the wound is too deep. So let's take our Victory in a Sandy Graham, of Hillsboro, to be given an important position with the administration. He was an ardent Horton supporter in 1940 and was as strong for Governor Cherry a year ago.

Lieutenant Governor from 1932-36, he ran in that triangular affair in 1936 against McDonald and Hoyer, finishing in third place. There is just a chance he may be connected with the highway setup for the next four years.

PUSHED—The appointment of a highway chairman has been pushed back several days. Scheduled to be made a week ago, there was difficulty over getting the proper person to take the place. It now looks as if W. P. Horton won't take the place, which shows you just how much he loves his law practice in Chatham County.

Cpl. Joe S. Davis Serving In England

Cpl. Joe S. Davis, son of Mrs. T. V. Davis, of Hazelwood, is now serving at an air service command in England, according to information received from the station.

Cpl. Davis, who has worked on almost every type of combat and transport plane used in the European theatre of operations, entered the service on October 16, 1942. He has been overseas for the past 20 months.

Modifications and repairs on more than 7,000 fighters and bombers, an all-time high for the number of soldier-technicians engaged, was the 1944 record of the aircraft hangars in England at the command where Cpl. Davis is serving. Each plane ferried to a front-line combat organization represented scores of inspections, repairs, and structural improvements, which increase the fighting efficiency of AAF aircraft.

Cpl. Davis, a graduate of the Waynesville high school, was employed by Royle and Pilkington, Inc., at the time he entered the service.

The average American family gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did 15 years ago

Yes, the first is a trick, but the second is a fact—a fortunate fact for you.

By using more and more electricity over the years, you've helped us reduce the price to a point where the average family now gets about twice as much electricity as it did 15 years ago for the same money.

Keeping the price of electricity pinned down to the floor in wartime is a much tougher job than keeping a pin-up girl floating in mid-air!

It takes much more than magic. It takes careful planning, hard work and good business management.

America, the Breadbasket of the World . . .

You often heard the above phrase during World War I, and today, as then, it is a reality. The war-torn nations must have food, and this is the logical nation to raise and sell it to them. We right here in Haywood are in an ideal position to grow a larger acreage, more varieties than almost any spot on earth. With the right foresight, and preparation, we can raise several crops on one piece of land during a season. Those who prepare now to reap the golden harvest that is offered in truck crops will be well repaid in dollars and cents at the end of the season.

We are prepared this year, as in the past, to market your produce for you quickly and profitably. We will pay the highest market prices in cash for all the produce you raise.
