

Infantrymen In Coming On the 23rd

Infantrymen in coming on the 23rd... The action part of "Here's Your Infantry" will be at the stadium. The basic unit of the Infantry, the rifle squad is brought out, its use in action shown and then it is built into a platoon by the addition of more efficient machinegunners, mortar men and rocketeers. An announcer gives the cost of equipment and training as the soldiers put their weapons into position and demonstrate their firepower.

BE FAT? Exercise... The plan is to show the soldier's equipment and training as the soldiers put their weapons into position and demonstrate their firepower.

J. R. Morgan On State Baptist Commission

J. R. Morgan returned Wednesday after attending a meeting of the State Baptist Education Commission in Raleigh. The commission deals with two senior and two junior colleges of the denomination in the state.

Miss Underwood On State Textbook Commission

Cherry candidacy directed to teachers and educational forces, which were broadcast over state-wide radio booklets. Miss Underwood spoke over Gastonia's station WGNC under the auspices of the Gaston County Cherry for Governor Committee.

State College Hints

Better nutrition for children in many families depends on more home-produced food. The nutrition scientists suggest that parents need constant education on the advantages of home gardens and home food preservation. They urge the growing of more tomatoes and also cabbage, rutabagas and broccoli, particularly to furnish meals with more vitamin C.

1944 Feeder Calf Sale, Creates Demand For More

Buyers prefer to buy at a sale where large numbers are concentrated and where they know they can buy in carload lots. North Carolina has been backward in the development of the feeder calf sales where they are graded and sold on a graded basis. Virginia and Tennessee are way ahead of this section and each fall sell thousands of head of steer and heifer calves through organized sales.

preachers, visit colleges where he gave addresses and had consultations on Christian life service. His work continued for six years, after which he spent another six years as one of the secretaries of the Virginia Mission Board. This work required writing and publishing numerous pamphlets and other literature on life service, thousands of addresses and sermons and interviews at colleges and universities from Leland Stanford University to the University of Virginia.

How Sober Hoskins Got His Name

Everybody kids Sober Hoskins about his name. Of course, they allow that it's appropriate. Sober never drinks anything stronger than a glass of beer. And a harder worker in the fields there never was.

"Shucks," says Sober's dad. "We named Sober 'Sober' just because he looked that way when he was born. Like we called his sister 'Gay,' and his other sister 'Prissy.' And it's had its effect on all of 'em," he adds with spirit. (Prissy is the old maid in the Hoskins family.)

From where I sit, there may be something in what Sober's dad says. Naming children after virtues is a fine old American custom. Look at the names of our pioneers and pilgrims: Faith, Pious, Charity, Hope, Ernest.

Maybe we should use such names more often. And one I'd like to add is "Tolerance." If we all had Tolerance for a middle name, and lived up to it, we'd have a better, happier world.

into a platoon by the addition of more efficient machinegunners, mortar men and rocketeers. An announcer gives the cost of equipment and training as the soldiers put their weapons into position and demonstrate their firepower.

As a climax, the Infantrymen are formed into a combat patrol which re-enacts an attack on a Japanese pillbox. The moments of tense silence as the Infantrymen crawl from position to position up the full length of the field; the sudden thunderous explosions of enemy mortar shells; the sharp staccato bursts of machinegun and rifle fire, are all a prelude to the final rush over barbed wire entanglements on a "human bridge" and the wiping out of the pillbox by jets of death from the flamethrowers.

In its grim, deadly earnestness and down-to-earth realism, "Here's Your Infantry" is a true-to-life projection back home of Infantry in action overseas.

In view of manpower shortages in combat areas and the vital need for battle equipment abroad, it was decided to use only Infantrymen who had been returned to this country after long service overseas and to use equipment that, while suitable for training and demonstration would not be issued to troops in combat who get the best for little use.

The men were given a six-weeks extensive training at Fort Benning just for this show.

They will leave here about nine o'clock Thursday morning for Canton where the same presentation will be given Thursday night. On Saturday night the group will perform in Asheville.

Prevent Chapping
Clean hands can help to prevent the soreness which sometimes follows chapping. It isn't handwashing, but the lick and a promise sort of drying, that induces chaps. In cold weather, the hands should be completely dried after each washing. If chapping results from outdoor activities, the best remedy is to bathe the hands in lukewarm soapy water, clean them well, especially around the knuckles; dry them thoroughly; and then rub in a little glycerine, hand lotion, vaseline or other softener. Before going to bed wash the hands, spread some soothing ointment thickly over the chapped areas, and cover with loose clean mittens or cloths.
